Antipoverty Bill Memo Causes Furor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret Johnson administration memorandum attacking sharply the $5.2 billion antipoverty bill drafted by a Senate Labor subcommittee is causing a furor among Labor Committee Democrats.

The memorandum demands: —Removal of a special $3 billion emergency job program for slum dwellers attached to the bill by subcommittee Chairman Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Deletion of a requirement that the Office of Economic Opportunity disclose the projected five-year cost of the antipoverty program. The memo said "this would create political problems for the administration in an election year."

—Scrapping of a special $105 million item to finance a slum job program backed by Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. The memo said "this will invite slashing amendments on the floor and will seriously affect passage of the legislation."

The memo said Johnson particularly was exercised about the subcommittee revisions because "the President has spent more time on the language in this bill personally than he has on any other domestic legislation that has been sent to the Congress this year."

The memo was discussed at a closed meeting of the full Labor Committee earlier this week.

Clark declined to discuss the matter but a newsman obtained the memo from other sources, who gave this picture of the furor:

The memo was drafted in OEO after a meeting in the White House office of Joseph A. Califano Jr., special assistant to the President. The meeting was held after the subcommittee approved its version of the antipoverty bill.

Copies were sent to all Democrats on the committee except Clark. The White House said later Clark was omitted by mistake and it had apologized to the Pennsylvania.

Clark quickly learned about the memo and read it at the committee session Monday.

Some Democrats on hand denounced the administration's handling of the matter as "stupid" and said their reaction was to support the subcommittee bill.

The subcommittee bill authorized $2.2 billion for a one-year extension of the controversial program, $148 million more than Johnson asked.

But it also tied to the bill Clark's proposal, growing out of this summer's riot, for a $3 billion emergency program.

Clark said in an interview he was not surprised at the President's rejection of this program. It was inevitable because of the budget stringency resulting from the Vietnamese war, he said. Clark opposes U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Air Losses Rise In War on North

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. losses this week in the air war against North Vietnam rose to 12 planes and 18 fliers Wednesday as Communist MIGs and ground batteries downed six more American jets, the U.S. Command announced.

American pilots shot down two Communist MIGs in the fourth straight day of raids into the heavily defended Communist heartland around Hanoi. A third MIG was hit and probably downed, the U.S. Command said.

One flier was rescued and 10 were missing. On Monday, when six other American planes were downed, the command said, two fliers were rescued and eight were listed as missing.

Returning pilots reported spectacular destruction in chokod rail yards around Hanoi.

Although the ground war remained generally quiet, Communist terror and sabotage was on the rise. Military authorities reported a train blown from the tracks near Saigon and two buses blown up by mines near Hue. The explosions killed 12 civilians and wounded eight.

The bloody increase in terrorism as the Viet Cong tries to sabotage the Sept. 3 presidential elections was emphasized by an announcement that terrorists killed 167 civilians last week, nearly three times the 64 killed the week before, wounded 252 and kidnapped 125.

Ethel Merman's Daughter Dead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Coroner Raul Ulrich said he would conduct an autopsy to determine the cause of death of Ethel Six Geary, 26, daughter of stage and screen star Ethel Merman.

Mrs. Geary was found dead Wednesday in the summer cabin she rented near Green Mountain Falls, 14 miles west of here.

Neighbors said they were summoned to the cabin by Mrs. Geary's two children, Barbara, 6, and Michael, 5. They said they had been unable to awaken their mother.

Father Passes Out, Baby Girl Drowns

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Three-month-old Amy McGraw drowned in a sink today after her father who was bathing her apparently passed out, police reported.

The father, Bobbie McGraw, said he was taking medication for asthma and apparently passed out or fell asleep.

McGraw and his wife are students at Miami University.

U.S. Stake in Struggle Vital

China Watchers Are Frustrated

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The United States has a big stake in the outcome of Red China's upheaval, experts agree. When it comes to choosing sides, the specialists are frustrated. There seems nothing to do but wait, watch and wonder.

A poll of men who have spent much of their lives studying China produces a chilling mystery despite a large measure of agreement on some points. China, the specialists say, has not yet felt the full, painful impact of its titanic inner struggle and probably will not for another year or two. The danger will become more acute when the hangover sets in. Much will depend upon who has the upper hand.

The upheaval has virtually destroyed the Chinese Communist party structure as it existed some years ago. It has jolted the government structure, severely damaged the educational system, badly hurt industrial and agricultural production prospects, damaged China's foreign trade and foreign exchange position, and interfered with the progress of science probably in all fields except nuclear weapon technology. A year of incessant turmoil also has radically changed the pattern of global politics. China has increasingly isolated herself within a ring of apprehension.

These views were brought out in discussions with scholars at the 27th Congress of Orientalists at the University of Michigan this month. They agree in general that it is dangerous to predict about China. There may never be a clear line between

British Will Not Break With Chinese

LONDON (AP) — Britain's diplomatic mission in Peking has returned to its compound and will rebuild the burned out legation building as proof of a determination to stay, the Foreign Office said today.

Red China voiced new threats to British rule in Hong Kong, the center of the Chinese-British dispute, and praised the Red Guards' attack on the mission Tuesday.

Donald Hopson, British charge d'affaires in Peking, messaged the Foreign Office that members of his staff and their families were safe and back in their apartments, which were ransacked but not burned. They had taken refuge, after the mob assaults, in other diplomatic compounds.

The Foreign Office said there were plans to fly British women and children out of Peking but there was no question at this stage of withdrawing the diplomatic mission. British policy is not to break diplomatic relations and to hold the mission as long as possible.

The attacking Red Guards, youthful followers of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, forced some of the 23 legation staff members to kneel and bow their heads then photographed them while they were taunted and humiliated, reliable sources in London reported.

The British Foreign Office accused Red China of "breaking all normal rules of civilized behavior." But a spokesman said: "It is not our objective to rupture relations. Where we go from now on depends entirely on the attitude and behavior of the Chinese authorities."

Britain's most immediate concern is for the safety of the estimated 190 British nationals scattered throughout Red China. Because of the present internal upheaval in China, London could not be certain even of being able to communicate with many of them.

However, the British have some hostages. The 50 or more Chinese officials, businessmen and newsmen in Britain have been told they cannot leave the country without special permission.

Representatives

Not in Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Hugh Carey said during a House debate on birth control and foreign aid that he doesn't oppose family planning—it was impossible, he said, to have his 14 children "without the most exquisite planning."

Every time a baby is born in India, the New York Democrat added, it is evidence of God's hope for the human race.

"I hope this doesn't mean," said Rep. Charles S. Joelson, D-N.J., "that each time a baby is killed in Vietnam this shows God's despair for mankind."

Foreign Aid Is Limited To 1 Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration leaders in the House hope to rally their forces after suffering an initial setback in voting on the foreign aid bill.

Attempts to cut the $2.5 billion economic assistance portion of the aid bill were scheduled today after Republicans and Southern Democrats succeeded Wednesday in limiting the program to one year.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee had voted to authorize the aid program for two years, approving $3.1 billion for the current fiscal year and adding nearly $3.6 billion for fiscal 1969.

But the House, by a nonrecord vote of 129 to 116, eliminated the second year from the bill Wednesday as the final voting started after three days of debate.

Although many Southerners left the floor before the vote, about 20 joined the almost solid rank of Republicans in supporting the amendment by Rep. E. Ross Adair, R-Ind.

The action is subject to possible reversal on a roll call after the amendment process is completed, probably late today.

Leaders hope to complete action on the bill, the last important measure scheduled for House consideration before the 10-day Labor Day recess starting next Thursday.

The House committee only cut the administration's $3.4 billion aid request by $219 million, while the Senate Foreign Relations Committee whacked off $737 million and the full Senate trimmed another $100 million.

The Senate, however, cut the administration's $596 million military aid request to $391 million, while the House committee gave the administration everything it wanted, plus an additional $54 million for North Atlantic Treaty Organization housekeeping costs.

Ohio U Professor Dies on Vacation

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Charles L. Smith, Ohio University professor of design, died Wednesday while vacationing near Boston, Mass. He was 49.

Smith was the designer of the official symbol for the 1953 Ohio Sesquicentennial. He had been a member of the university's college of fine arts faculty since 1948.

when Mike Kendrick was the first customer. He had waited for two hours in the darkness.

The exposition grounds — 369 acres of attractions for the young and old — began to hum with visitors shortly after the fair was opened officially at 6 a.m.

Fair Manager E. J. Keirns predicts that 1.8 million people will pass through the turnstiles before the exposition closes Labor Day. The fair had more than 1.5 million visitors last year.

And along with the new attractions, some of the old favorites have returned this year.

The 300-member All-Ohio Boys' Band is back, the 300-voice Ohio State Fair Youth Choir which took its third European tour this summer and the All-Ohio Youth Symphony are on hand.

And what is billed as the world's largest junior fair—6,000 exhibits housed in the 52,000-sq-ft Lausche Building — awaits visitors.

Ohioans and out-of-staters attending the fair will also find a big list of free entertainment programs boasting some of the nation's top stars.

Pat Boone, movie and singing personality, joins the Sandpipers, a young and highly popular recording group for today's top billing.

They'll be back again Friday and come the weekend you'll find television-recording personalities Andy Williams, Sonny and Cher and other top personalities at the grandstand.

3.2 Beer For Minors Is Blamed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio sale of 3.2 beer to minors aged 18-20 was blamed for increasing juvenile delinquency Wednesday by Rep. Robert L. Wilhelm R-2 Van Wert.

Wilhelm called for the legislature to make an investigation. Ohio law bans sale of intoxicants to minors, but 3.2 beer is classified as nonintoxicant in Ohio, although some authorities disagree.

Wilhelm says youthful residence of most border states come into Ohio to "celebrate" with 3.2 beer, creating problems in Buckeye border counties.

"Reports in recent years indicate an increasing use by minors of alcoholic beverages, which use has often been an aggravating factor in behavior problems," Wilhelm says in a resolution he introduced asking the general assembly to make an inquiry.

"Such increased use must be viewed in the context of an increasing use of drugs by young people," says Wilhelm, "and an increasing incidence of juvenile delinquency, much of it associated with use of alcohol or drugs."

Adoption of the resolution would call for the Legislative Service Commission to study the problem and report findings in the 1969 session.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet threat of possible "retaliatory steps" to intensify U.S. bombing of North Vietnam is discounted for now by a critic and a supporter of President Johnson's war policies.

The Soviets said in a statement Wednesday that what they called the latest U.S. escalation of the conflict will "inevitably lead to the necessary retaliatory steps." They didn't spell out the threat further.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called it "a mild warning that none the less should be taken seriously."

He has labeled the bombing of targets near the Red China border a "stupid" move, inviting Chinese intervention.

"I don't reach the conclusion from this that the Russians are about to intervene in the war," he said. "But it might be a straw indicating which way the wind is blowing."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he doubts anybody can guess the Soviet intentions.

"But they sound like they have before," said Hickenlooper, a backer of U.S. war policies. "I think this may be in the nature of an objection for the record to reassure their friends in North Vietnam."

Romney's Son Is Married Privately

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. George Scott Romney and members of their families were back home in Michigan today, following Wednesday's wedding in the Salt Lake Mormon Temple.

Scott, 25, eldest son of Michigan Gov. George Romney, and his new bride, Ronna Eileen Stern, 23, of Birmingham, Mich., were married for "time and all eternity" in private rites of the Church on Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Only the bride and groom and members of the Romney family were present when Elder Hugh B. Brown, first counselor in the first presidency of the Mormon Church, performed the marriage.

The bride's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Kraus, were unable to attend Wednesday's temple ceremony because they are not Mormons, but will hold a reception Friday at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

The couple plans to live in Cambridge, Mass., where Scott is a second-year student at Harvard Law School.

Antipoverty Bill Memo Causes Furor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A secret Johnson administration memorandum attacking sharply the $5.2 billion antipoverty bill drafted by a Senate Labor subcommittee is causing a furor among Labor Committee Democrats.

The memorandum demands: —Removal of a special $3 billion emergency job program for slum dwellers attached to the bill by subcommittee Chairman Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Deletion of a requirement that the Office of Economic Opportunity disclose the projected five-year cost of the antipoverty program. The memo said "this would create political problems for the administration in an election year."

—Scrapping of a special $105 million item to finance a slum job program backed by Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y. The memo said "this will invite slashing amendments on the floor and will seriously affect passage of the legislation."

The memo said Johnson particularly was exercised about the subcommittee revisions because "the President has spent more time on the language in this bill personally than he has on any other domestic legislation that has been sent to the Congress this year."

The memo was discussed at a closed meeting of the full Labor Committee earlier this week.

Clark declined to discuss the matter but a newsman obtained the memo from other sources, who gave this picture of the furor:

The memo was drafted in OEO after a meeting in the White House office of Joseph A. Califano Jr., special assistant to the President. The meeting was held after the subcommittee approved its version of the antipoverty bill.

Copies were sent to all Democrats on the committee except Clark. The White House said later Clark was omitted by mistake and it had apologized to the Pennsylvania.

Clark quickly learned about the memo and read it at the committee session Monday.

Some Democrats on hand denounced the administration's handling of the matter as "stupid" and said their reaction was to support the subcommittee bill.

The subcommittee bill authorized $2.2 billion for a one-year extension of the controversial program, $148 million more than Johnson asked.

But it also tied to the bill Clark's proposal, growing out of this summer's riot, for a $3 billion emergency program.

Clark said in an interview he was not surprised at the President's rejection of this program. It was inevitable because of the budget stringency resulting from the Vietnamese war, he said. Clark opposes U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Air Losses Rise In War on North

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. losses this week in the air war against North Vietnam rose to 12 planes and 18 fliers Wednesday as Communist MIGs and ground batteries downed six more American jets, the U.S. Command announced.

American pilots shot down two Communist MIGs in the fourth straight day of raids into the heavily defended Communist heartland around Hanoi. A third MIG was hit and probably downed, the U.S. Command said.

One flier was rescued and 10 were missing. On Monday, when six other American planes were downed, the command said, two fliers were rescued and eight were listed as missing.

Returning pilots reported spectacular destruction in choked rail yards around Hanoi. Although the ground war remained generally quiet, Communist terror and sabotage was on the rise. Military authorities reported a train blown from the tracks near Saigon and two buses blown up by mines near Hue. The explosions killed 12 civilians and wounded eight.

The bloody increase in terrorism as the Viet Cong tries to sabotage the Sept. 3 presidential elections was emphasized by an announcement that terrorists killed 167 civilians last week, nearly three times the 64 killed the week before, wounded 252 and kidnapped 128.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Coroner Raul Ulrich said he would conduct an autopsy to determine the cause of death of Ethel Six Geary, 26, daughter of stage and screen star Ethel Merman.

Mrs. Geary was found dead Wednesday in the summer cabin she rented near Green Mountain Falls, 14 miles west of here.

Neighbors said they were summoned to the cabin by Mrs. Geary's two children, Barbara, 6, and Michael, 5. They said they had been unable to awaken their mother.

Father Passes Out, Baby Girl Drowns

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Three-month-old Amy McGraw drowned in a sink today after her father who was bathing her apparently passed out, police reported.

The father, Bobbie McGraw, said he was taking medication for asthma and apparently passed out or fell asleep.

McGraw and his wife are students at Miami University.

The prime minister said Wednesday that the report of expanded French aid for Quebec is no more disturbing than "if Britain made a cultural exchange with any province."

He said the aid came under a 1965 Canadian-French agreement and that he would comment further if it was required when he had more details from Paris.

U.S. Stake in Struggle Vital

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The United States has a big stake in the outcome of Red China's upheaval, experts agree. When it comes to choosing sides, the specialists are frustrated. There seems nothing to do but wait, watch and wonder.

A poll of men who have spent much of their lives studying China produces a chilling mystery despite a large measure of agreement on some points. China, the specialists say, has not yet felt the full, painful impact of its titanic inner struggle and probably will not for another year or two. The danger will become more acute when the hangover sets in. Much will depend upon who has the upper hand.

The upheaval has virtually destroyed the Chinese Communist party structure as it existed some years ago. It has jolted the government structure, severely damaged the educational system, badly hurt industrial and agricultural production prospects, damaged China's foreign trade and foreign exchange position, and interfered with the progress of science probably in all fields except nuclear weapon technology. A year of incessant turmoil also has radically changed the pattern of global politics. China has increasingly isolated herself within a ring of apprehension.

These views were brought out in discussions with scholars at the 27th Congress of Orientalists at the University of Michigan this month. They agree in general that it is dangerous to predict about China. There may never be a clear line between victory and vanquished in the great proletarian cultural revolution. Indeed, it is difficult for students to speak in clearly defined terms of one side or the other winning the struggle.

On the surface, it would seem to be a gigantic struggle between two distinct factions: one headed by Defense Minister Lin Biao with the support and blessing of Chairman Mao Tse-tung, the other headed by President Liu Shao-chi, backed by significant elements in the party and government bureaucracies.

Ky Won't Appear With Candidates

RACH GIA, Vietnam (AP) — Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu called off an appearance with the other presidential candidates at the last minute today, continuing his boycott of the official campaign tour.

Thieu's aides in Saigon said Wednesday night he would join the 10 civilian candidates today at Rach Gia, capital of Kien Giang Province next to Cambodia and an area where Viet Cong activities are rare.

It was the eighth stop on the downed by missiles from their Red counterparts, MIG21s.

U. S. headquarters reported seven aerial dogfights in the Hanoi area Wednesday and other MIGs sighted indicating a maximum effort by the North Vietnamese air force, which U. S. numbers about 80 combat-ready jets.

Of the four U. S. jets lost to groundfire, the command said, three were the Phantoms and one an F105 Thunderchief. The headquarters did not disclose whether they were brought down by missiles or conventional ground fire. One was a carrier-based Navy plane, the rest Air Force.

The air losses Wednesday raised to 649 the total of U. S. combat planes reported lost in North Vietnam since the bombing began in February, 1965. U. S. officials are now 84 confirmed MIG kill and 12 probable.

One of the chief targets Wednesday was the Yen Vien rail yard seven miles northeast of Hanoi, which Air Force pilots reported was choked with about 100 boxcars, some damaged in previous raids. Pilots reported at least 50 cars destroyed or damaged Wednesday.

Similarly, the Bac Giang yard 28 miles above Hanoi on the main northeast rail line to Red China was left in a cloud of smoke and debris.

The rolling stock from Red China has been building up in the yards north of Hanoi because earlier raids dropped the rail bridges spanning the Red River into the North Vietnamese capital.

Harsha Dislikes Request for More Foreign Aid

Congressman William H. Harsha has called upon the House to defeat the Administration's request for additional foreign aid.

The Ohio Lawmaker said, "Despite American generosity, our foreign assistance program has won us neither friends nor respect nor trustworthy allies. Nor has it accomplished the claimed objective of establishing stability and keeping countries out of the Communist orbit."

"How can we ask the tax-ridden citizens of the United States to add to the grueling burden so that this questionable program can be carried out ad infinitum?" he queried.

"Certainly now is the time for cutting off foreign aid commitments. This would help stem inflation, reduce the budget deficit, alleviate the balance of payment problems and perhaps provide some relief to this nation's long-suffering tax payers," Harsha concluded.

tour of the countryside that the civilian candidates are making. About 2,000 persons crowded into a movie house in the center of the fishing and farming community.

A representative of Thieu and his vice presidential running mate, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, said the press of official business forced Thieu to cancel his plans to come to Rach Gia.

The election law says the candidates must campaign together or not campaign at all. Since Thieu and Ky have failed to join the other candidates in the 11-stop swing through the provinces, their opponents accuse them of campaigning illegally on their own. Thieu and Ky claim their frequent trips outside Saigon are "nonpolitical" and part of their official duties.

Kien Giang Province is considered firmly in the military ticket's column, with Thieu and Ky commanding large support from those of Cambodian stock, Catholic refugees from North Vietnam, and members of the Hoa Hao, a nationalistic religious sect.

T. H. Moore, chief of naval operations before his Senate preparedness subcommittee demonstrated how "critical and crucial" intensified bombing was to successful prosecution of the war.

But Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., said the air attacks are not "producing the desired results" of bringing the Communists to negotiating table.

Morton said he does not oppose the attacks on military targets near Red China and only hopes "the dividend is worth the risk involved."

"What disturbs me," he said, "is bombing right around the metropolitan areas of North Vietnam—Haiphong, Hanoi. Whether the civilians are hit or not, they see it, and this increases their morale and their will to resist."

Morton's views were aired on a National Educational Television program, "In My Opinion."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman says many American consumers would be happy to pay more for groceries if they were assured the extra money would go to farmers.

Freeman's statement came at a Wednesday news conference at which he said the administration still is seeking to find the legislative machinery that would allow farmers to bargain collectively for the crop prices they receive.

President Johnson said last week the administration was seeking a way to provide farmers with the type of bargaining power now held by industrial workers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 23-year-old University of Indiana student jailed in Hungary is reported healthy and in good spirits by the first American to see him since his arrest July 26.

Richard Goos of Hamilton, Ohio, is charged with assisting an East German woman at tempt to cross the Hungarian border into Yugoslavia. He is expected to be tried in September.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal safety official questions an auto manufacturers' contention that shoulder-strap seat belts might contribute to serious and even fatal injuries.

A General Motors Corp. film of dummies under simulated impact conditions shows car occupants might be thrown forward from rear seats and hit front-seat passengers, held in place by the shoulder harnesses.

The Federal Highway Administration will require cross-chest seat belts for front-seat occupants of all cars built after next Jan. 1.

"I'm not one bit worried about head-bashing," said Col. John Stapp, chief medical officer of the National Highway Safety Bureau, in a Wednesday interview. He called the GM test methods invalid.

Chinese Chaos Baffles U.S. Observers

That is the surface. Underneath it seems much more: a struggle to determine China's future for years to come. It is a struggle for a whole generation whence must come leaders to fashion that future.

Prospects for the United States could be unpleasant either way.

Those in China fighting the excesses of the cultural revolution are regarded as moderates who might simmer China down and turn her toward construction. But scholars agree China probably would still call herself Communist. At the same time it could mean a sort of reconciliation with Moscow, however fragile. That would give communism the opportunity once more to claim a united world front, which Americans hardly would welcome.

On the other hand, dangers inherent in a clear-cut Mao-Lin victory also would be unpleasant, perhaps even more so. The Maoists seem intent upon a future of constant revolution, "people's war" and forcible expansion of their ideology. The pressures could lead to dismemberment of China—perhaps a breakdown by non-Chinese northern areas.

A standoff, too, would present some peril. One possibility which arouses worry among the specialists is that a regime struggling to retain its power might seek diversions. This could mean pressure on neighbors or even inventing an attack on China by a "foreign devil" from the direction of Southeast Asia as a means of unifying the country. Many seem to think, however, that China, despite its fledgling nuclear arsenal, would be careful about challenging the might of the United States.

The specialist displayed shock and amazement at the extent to which the Red Chinese demonstrated what could be done with the human mind among a people noted for individuality and intelligence. The chanting by note and the fanatical excesses in the name of "Chairman Mao's thinking" are done by people under 30 brought up under total domination by an authoritarian regime and isolated from the outside world. The specialists wonder how long the fever pitch can last. Perhaps some of those adoring Mao today may curse their idol tomorrow.

Hospital Board Buys New Equipment; Adopts Policy

Purchase of new equipment for cardiac patients and the adoption of a policy regarding an "on call" procedure topped the agenda of the Wednesday night meeting of Berger Hospital's Board of Governors.

The meeting, usually scheduled the third Wednesday of the month, was delayed a week due to board members' vacations and other commitments.

Upon the recommendation of Dr. Julio Sanguly, sanctioned by the medical staff, the board authorized the purchase of three pieces of equipment amounting to about $1,600.

James Stambaugh, administrator, informed the board that the Gift Shop Guild has offered a contribution of $800 towards the equipment.

DR. SANGULY, in explaining the need for the equipment, said that the machinery is a "must" if the hospital is to keep up with progressive medicine. He noted that if one life is saved by acquisition of the new gear "it would be well worth the purchase price."

The new equipment is designed to give surgeons an audible account of a patient's heart condition during surgery while recording heart beat. Another piece of the equipment, according to the local surgeon, will relieve heart beat following cardiac arrest. The equipment can be used in surgery, intensive care, emergency room and virtually throughout the hospital.

The "on call" procedure adopted by the board will mean a two-dollar increment to nurses and other personnel who are on call for an eight hour period.

Stambaugh, in developing the procedure, said that they felt it would be an economy move as well as giving nursing personnel an incentive.

He said the program would give "on call" personnel the two-dollar increment whether they were called or not and, if they are called, they would also get regular working time pay and "time and a half for overtime as per government regulations."

A proposal for appraisal of the hospital, its grounds, contents and other property met with considerable objection by board members Harry Clifton and Howard Koch.

THE administrator said that the lowest estimate offered to date for the appraisal was $1,450. The matter was tabled until the September meeting.

Dr. Sanguly also asked the Board of Governors to include in the hospital's bylaws a policy which would require a surgeon to have a physician during all "major operations performed at Berger Hospital."

The doctor noted that the request was unanimous from the surgical staff. He said a policy adoption along these lines would also mean another step toward accreditation.

Board members are expected to adopt the resolution at the September meeting after it is submitted in writing.

Stambaugh told board members that he had followed their instructions in sending a letter to Floyd Woodgeard of Pickaway Speedway in regards to use of the emergency room at the hospital.

The correspondence to Woodgeard noted that the hospital is neither staffed nor equipped to handle the injury cases arising from accidents occurring at the local speedway.

"It is the carefully considered opinion of the Board of Trustees and the Medical Staff that you should make arrangements to have a qualified physician on the scene to handle such cases," the letter stated.

The letter closed by saying that "we cannot, therefore, consider that we are in any way obliged to serve as a first aid station to the speedway."

Harsha Dislikes Request for More Foreign Aid

Congressman William H. Harsha has called upon the House to defeat the Administration's request for additional foreign aid.

The Ohio lawmaker said, "Despite American generosity, our foreign assistance program has won us neither friends nor respect nor trustworthy allies. Nor has it accomplished the claimed objective of establishing stability and keeping countries out of the Communist orbit."

"How can we ask the tax-ridden citizens of the United States to add to the grueling burden so that this questionable program can be carried out ad infinitum?" he queried.

"Certainly now is the time for cutting of foreign aid commitments. This would help stem inflation, reduce the budget deficit, alleviate the balance of payment problems and perhaps provide some relief to this nation's long-suffering tax payers," Harsha concluded.

Rotary District Governor Is Speaker at Circleville

James W. Miller, Lancaster, governor of the Rotary District of this area, addressed Circleville Rotary Club during his official visit today at the L-K Restaurant.

Miller, a practicing attorney, is a past president of the Lancaster Rotary Club. He is currently serving as president of the Fairfield County Bar Assn., secretary of the Lancaster City Park Commission and is a member of the Executive Board of the Central Ohio Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Speaking of the global growth of Rotary, he said, "Rotary is the pioneer of the service clubs and today numbers more than 12,785 clubs with a combined membership of more than 613,500 business and professional men. Spread throughout 135 countries in all parts of the world, Rotary Clubs meet every day of the week and conduct activities to improve their communities, aid youth, elevate business standards, and further international friendship and understanding."

The district governor also conferred with Jim Grant, local Rotary club president, on matters of club administration and plans for future service activities.

Referring to the program of Luther H. Hodges of Chapel Hill, N. C., president of Rotary International for 1967-67, the Rotary governor said, "President Hodges has placed emphasis on the need for Rotarians everywhere to increase their personal involvement in Rotary. He believes that a man's membership in Rotary becomes more meaningful through his own individual efforts to better his community, maintain high standards in his business or profession, and develop an understanding of the problems of other nations."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman says many American consumers would be happy to pay more for groceries if they were assured the extra money would go to farmers.

Freeman's statement came at a Wednesday news conference at which he said the administration still is seeking to find the legislative machinery that would allow farmers to bargain collectively for the crop prices they receive.

President Johnson said last week the administration was seeking a way to provide farmers with the type of bargaining power now held by industrial workers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 23-year-old University of Indiana student jailed in Hungary is reported healthy and in good spirits by the first American to see him since his arrest July 26.

Richard Goos of Hamilton, Ohio, is charged with assisting an East German woman attempt to cross the Hungarian border into Yugoslavia. He is expected to be tried in September.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal safety official questions an auto manufacturers' contention that shoulder-strap seat belts might contribute to serious and even fatal injuries.

A General Motors Corp. film of dummies under simulated impact conditions shows car occupants might be thrown forward from rear seats and hit front-seat passengers, held in place by the shoulder harnesses.

The Federal Highway Administration will require cross-chest seat belts for front-seat occupants of all cars built after next Jan. 1.

"I'm not one bit worried about head-bashing," said John Stapp, chief medical officer of the National Highway Safety Bureau, in a Wednesday interview. He called the GM test methods invalid.

Capital Footnotes

The Shah of Iran and President Johnson have concluded two days of White House talks in agreement, according to a joint statement, that a solution to the Middle East crisis "should be sought in strict compliance with the principles of the United Nations Charter."

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, former Republican national chairman, GOP contender for the 1968 presidential nomination will win on the first national convention ballot.

"We have to plan ahead but we never know what is going to happen in the meantime"—Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, contending Congress shouldn't authorize foreign aid expenditures a year in advance.

Market Makes Slight Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered mildly today from three straight daily losses. Trading was fairly active.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 3 to 2.

Prices rose from the start. An early gain of a point or more in the Dow Jones industrial average was trimmed back gradually, however.

At noon the Dow industrials were off 23 at 904.88.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .8 at 333.6 with industrials up .6, rails up 1.2 and utilities off .1.

Cincinnati Youth Cut with Machete

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police continued today their search for the man who cut Richard Stark, 18, with a machete early Wednesday.

Doctors at General Hospital took eight hours and 175 stitches to close up wounds on Stark's neck, wrists and head. The youth told police he was attacked from behind in a street in suburban Norwood after he told a man he did not have any cigarettes to give him.

Chinese Chaos Baffles U.S. Observers

That is the surface. Underneath it seems much more: a struggle to determine China's future for years to come. It is a struggle for a whole generation whence must come leaders to fashion that future.

Prospects for the United States could be unpleasant either way.

Those in China fighting the excesses of the cultural revolution are regarded as moderates who might simmer China down and turn her toward construction. But scholars agree China probably would still call herself Communist. At the same time it could mean a sort of reconciliation with Moscow, however fragile. That would give communism the opportunity once more to claim a united world front, which Americans hardly would welcome.

On the other hand, dangers inherent in a clear-cut Mao-Lin victory also would be unpleasant, perhaps even more so. The Maoists seem intent upon a future of constant revolution, "people's war" and forcible expansion of their ideology. The pressures could lead to dismemberment of China—perhaps a breakaway by non-Chinese northern areas.

A standoff, too, would present some peril. One possibility which arouses worry among the specialists is that a regime struggling to retain its power might seek diversions. This could mean pressure on neighbors or even inventing an attack on China by a "foreign devil" from the direction of Southeast Asia as a means of unifying the country. Many seem to think, however, that China, despite its fledgling nuclear arsenal, would be careful about challenging the might of the United States.

The specialist displayed shock and amazement at the extent to which the Red Chinese demonstrated what could be done with the human mind among a people noted for individuality and intelligence. The chanting by note and the fanatical excesses in the name of "Chairman Mao's thinking" are done by people under 30 brought up under total domination by an authoritarian regime and isolated from the outside world. The specialists wonder how long the fever pitch can last. Perhaps some of those adoring Mao today may curse their idol tomorrow.

Hospital Board Buys New Equipment; Adopts Policy

Purchase of new equipment for cardiac patients and the adoption of a policy regarding an "on call" procedure topped the agenda of the Wednesday night meeting of Berger Hospital's Board of Governors.

The meeting, usually scheduled the third Wednesday of the month, was delayed a week due to board members' vacations and other commitments.

Upon the recommendation of Dr. Julio Sanguily, sanctioned by the medical staff, the board authorized the purchase of three pieces of equipment amounting to about $1,600.

James Stambaugh, administrator, informed the board that the Gift Shop Guild has offered a contribution of $800 towards the equipment.

DR. SANGUILY, in explaining the need for the equipment, said that the machinery is a "must" if the hospital is to keep up with progressive medicine. He noted that if one life is saved by acquisition of the new gear "it would be well worth the purchase price."

The new equipment is designed to give surgeons an audible account of a patient's heart condition during surgery while recording heart beat. Another piece of the equipment, according to the local surgeon, will give heart beat following cardiac arrest. The equipment can be used in surgery, intensive care, emergency room and virtually throughout the hospital.

The "on call" procedure adopted by the board will mean a two-dollar increment to nurses and other personnel who are on call for an eight hour period.

Stambaugh, in developing the procedure, said that they felt it would be an economy move as well as giving nursing personnel an incentive.

He said the program would give "on call" personnel the two-dollar increment whether they were called or not and, if they are called, they would also get regular working time pay and "time and a half for overtime as per government regulations."

A proposal for appraisal of the hospital, its grounds, contents and other property met with considerable objection by board members Harry Clifton and Howard Koch.

THE administrator said that the lowest estimate offered to date for the appraisal was $1,450. The matter was tabled until the September meeting.

Dr. Sanguily also asked the Board of Governors to include in the hospital's bylaws a policy which would require a surgeon to have a physician during all "major operations performed at Berger Hospital."

The doctor noted that the request was unanimous from the surgical staff. He said a policy adoption along these lines would also mean another step toward accreditation.

Day-Care Center, First in County, Opens Sept. 5

By PETE WILLS
Herald Staff Writer

Silent since the fall of 1962, the walls of Duvall School will once again echo the joyful sounds of children discovering their environment.

Beginning Sept. 5, parents in surrounding communities will be offered the opportunity to enroll their children in the Teays Valley Day-Care Center program. Pre-school age children, 2½ to five years old, will be accepted for enrollment.

The day-care center is the only one of its kind in Pickaway County and is ideally-located to accommodate the majority of people in surrounding areas. Circleville-to-Columbus commuters with "little ones" will find the center conveniently situated 1½ miles from Route 23.

Privately - owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wippel, Route 2, Lockbourne, the school will be available to children on a weekly, daily or hourly basis. Shoppers will find the school quite an aid to their baby-sitting problems when mother will only be gone for a few hours.

HOURS of operation of the center are also conveniently arranged to accommodate parents who must leave for work early in the morning. The school opens at 6:30 a. m. and remains open until 6 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wippel and "friends too numerous to mention" have been working full time at the Harrison Twp. School, readying the building for the first day. Work was started in April.

Painting of the entire inside of the building is nearly complete. A new furnace has arrived and is being installed at this time. Wall-to-wall carpeting should arrive next week. Mrs. Wippel says that draperies will also be put up by the time the first day rolls around.

Two acres of fenced-in playground is available for the energetic youngsters, and when an appetite is worked up, new kitchen facilities will be put to good use.

The floor of the adjoining cafeteria is presently being refinished and will be completed next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wippel are making plans to hire a certified kindergarten teacher if sufficient community interest in the program is expressed. A former school teacher is now employed to aid at the center.

EMPHASIS on educating the youngsters will be an integral part of the overall program. Two hours of educational instruction by trained and authorized personnel will be observed each day.

Children enrolled in the day-care program will be supervised at all times by qualified attendants and will be divided into rooms with their own age groups.

A pre-registration date of Aug. 28 has been set and children will be accepted on a first-come first-serve basis. Indications are that 40 weekly children will be accommodated at first. As the enrollment grows, more rooms will be opened and furnished to accommodate the increased number of children.

More information about the Teays Valley Day-Care Center is available by calling 983-4227.

TODAY In History

Today is Thursday, Aug. 24, the 236th day of 1967. There are 129 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814, British troops captured Washington, D.C. and burned the Capitol and White House.

On this date: In 79 A.D., an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in Italy buried the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum.

In 1777, Gen. George Washington led his Revolutionary War army into Philadelphia.

In 1862, a Confederate Army under Gen. Braxton Bragg invaded Kentucky during the Civil War.

In 1891, Thomas A. Edison applied for a patent for a motion picture machine.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to make a nonstop airplane flight across the United States.

In 1939, Germany and Russia signed a 10-year nonaggression pact.

Five years ago — young Cuban exiles in two small boats shelled seafront buildings in the Havana suburb of Miramar.

One year ago — President Johnson appealed for voluntary restraint to keep prices, profits and wages stable.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren Fellow Has Unusual Dating Practices

DEAR ABBY: I am a fairly attractive (so I'm told) 23-year-old girl who has just received my B. A. degree. My problem is a fellow who works in the filling station where I trade regularly.

We exchanged conversation and I found out he goes to an engineering college near here. We are also the same religion. For the last three months he has been saying to me, "When are you going to take me out?"

Then I say to him, "YOU are supposed to take ME out." Then he says, "I don't take girls out. They take ME out," and he kind of laughs and drops the subject right there.

Abby, I am interested in him. He's very nice looking and doesn't strike me as the irresponsible type, but how long should a 23-year-old girl play this game?

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: Games are for children. The young man could be married, engaged, going with someone, or just a great kisser. In any case, if he were sufficiently interested and available he should be able to engineer his own date. And until he does, don't take him seriously.

DEAR ABBY: Is there any defense, except rudeness, against avalanches of wedding invitations and announcements that come from the most casual of acquaintances who never indicate otherwise that they know we exist? Often these communications are from people we so seldom see, we shouldn't recognize them if they appeared at our door.

I am deeply suspicious that much of this practice has the ugly aspects of a "racket." One friend said she heard a bride-to-be and her mother discussing the wedding invitation list, and the mother said, "Let's invite So and So's. They will be good for a nice gift." Then months later, these young people send a juvenile unenthusiastic "thank you," sometimes mentioning the wrong gift.

Baby after baby is duly announced by a printed card, giving us further opportunities to donate.

Must youth be served forever?

be voluntary. Feeling as you do, but "donating" anyway, only helps to perpetuate the "racket."

DEAR ABBY: About the girl who was piqued when catty friends inquired in front of others whether she was wearing a wig:

Whenever a woman asks me publicly (with obvious feline overtones) whether I am wearing a wig, or is that "my own" hair, I look directly at her bosom and ask, "Are you wearing falsies or are they your own?"

I can tell immediately by her reaction whether the query has

Beginning Sept. 5, parents in surrounding communities will be offered the opportunity to enroll their children in the Teays Valley Day-Care Center program. Pre-school age children, 2½ to five years old, will be accepted for enrollment.

The day-care center is the only one of its kind in Pickaway County and is ideally located to accommodate the majority of people in surrounding areas. Circleville-to-Columbus commuters with "little ones" will find the center conveniently situated 1½ miles from Route 23.

Privately owned by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wippel, Route 2, Lockbourne, the school will be available to children on a weekly, daily or hourly basis. Shoppers will find the school quite an aid to their baby-sitting problems when mother will only be gone for a few hours.

HOURS of operation of the center are also conveniently arranged to accommodate parents who must leave for work early in the morning. The school opens at 6:30 a. m. and remains open until 6 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Wippel and "friends too numerous to mention" have been working full time at the Harrison Twp. School, readying the building for the first day. Work was started in April.

Painting of the entire inside of the building is nearly complete. A new furnace has arrived and is being installed at this time. Wall-to-wall carpeting should arrive next week. Mrs. Wippel says that draperies will also be put up by the time the first day rolls around.

Two acres of fenced-in playground is available for the energetic youngsters, and when an appetite is worked up, new kitchen facilities will be put to good use.

The floor of the adjoining cafeteria is presently being refinished and will be completed next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wippel are making plans to hire a certified kindergarten teacher if sufficient community interest in the program is expressed. A former school teacher is now employed to aid at the center.

EMPHASIS on educating the youngsters will be an integral part of the overall program. Two hours of educational instruction by trained and authorized personnel will be observed each day.

Children enrolled in the day-care program will be supervised at all times by qualified attendants and will be divided into rooms with their own age groups.

A pre-registration date of Aug. 28 has been set and children will be accepted on a first-come first-serve basis. Indications are that 40 weekly children will be accommodated at first. As the enrollment grows, more rooms will be opened and furnished to accommodate the increased number of children.

More information about the Teays Valley Day-Care Center is available by calling 983-4227.

TODAY In History

Today is Thursday, Aug. 24, the 236th day of 1967. There are 129 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1814, British troops captured Washington, D.C. and burned the Capitol and White House.

On this date: In 79 A.D., an eruption of Mount Vesuvius in Italy buried the ancient cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum.

In 1777, Gen. George Washington led his Revolutionary War army into Philadelphia.

In 1862, a Confederate Army under Gen. Braxton Bragg invaded Kentucky during the Civil War.

In 1891, Thomas A. Edison applied for a patent for a motion picture machine.

In 1932, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to make a nonstop airplane flight across the United States.

In 1939, Germany and Russia signed a 10-year nonaggression pact.

Five years ago — young Cuban exiles in two small boats shelled seafloor buildings in the Havana suburb of Miramar.

One year ago — President Johnson appealed for voluntary restraint to keep prices, profits and wages stable.

Dear Abby: Fellow Has Unusual Dating Practices

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a fairly attractive (so I'm told) 23-year-old girl who has just received my B. A. degree. My problem is a fellow who is about my age (I think) who works in the filling station where I trade regularly.

We exchanged conversation and I found out he goes to an engineering college near here. We are also the same religion. For the last three months he has been saying to me, "When are you going to take me out?"

Then I say to him, "YOU are supposed to take ME out." Then he says, "I don't take girls out. They take ME out," and he kind of laughs and drops the subject right there.

Abby, I am interested in him. He's very nice looking and doesn't strike me as the irresponsible type, but how long should a 23-year-old girl play this game?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Games are for children. The young man could be married, engaged, going with someone, or just a great kidder. In any case, if he were sufficiently interested and available he should be able to engineer his own date. And until he does, don't take him seriously.

DEAR ABBY: Is there any defense, except rudeness, against avalanches of wedding invitations and announcements that come from the most casual of acquaintances who never indicate otherwise that they know we exist? Often these communications are from people we so seldom see, we shouldn't recognize them if they appeared at our door.

I am deeply suspicious that much of this practice has the ugly aspects of a "racket." One friend said she heard a bride-to-be and her mother discussing the wedding invitation list, and the mother said, "Let's invite So and So's. They will be good for a nice gift." Then months later, these young people send a juvenile unenthusiastic "thank you," sometimes mentioning the wrong gift.

Baby after baby is duly announced by a printed card, giving us further opportunities to donate.

Must you be served forever?

PAST 70

DEAR PAST: A gift, be it a card or a Cadillac, should be voluntary. Feeling as you do, but "donating" anyway, only helps to perpetuate the "racket."

DEAR ABBY: About the girl who was piqued when catty friends inquired in front of others whether she was wearing a wig:

Whenever a woman asks me publicly (with obvious feline overtones) whether I am wearing a wig, or is that "my own" hair, I look directly at her bosom and ask, "Are you wearing falsies or are they your own?"

I can tell immediately by her reaction whether the query has

Pornography Cache Raided in Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—What was described by vice squad detectives as the biggest pornography raid in the city's history was made Wednesday at Zar's Book Store.

Detectives said they found 14 films, 200 slides and a large quantity of lewd books. Owner Thomas Zarecky, 55, and his son, Gregory, 19, were held for questioning after the raid.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Please tell me all you can about the cause and treatment of Parkinson's disease? My husband was recently told that he had this condition. It seems that from the moment he was told about it, he fell apart. He can't work; he just sits and broods.

Mrs. M.L.M., Manitoba, Canada
Dear Mrs. M.:

That which we do not know about Parkinson's disease can fill many books. We, in the practice of medicine, know how to recognize it because the clinical picture is so distinctive. Unfortunately, we do not know enough about its cause and its cure to be helpful in all cases.

Parkinson's disease is also known as shaking palsy, or paralysis agitans. In some cases, this condition may be the result of an inflammation of infection of the brain. It can also be due to drugs, carbon monoxide poisoning and, occasionally, to injury.

The form that occurs in late middle age or in the elderly is almost always unexplained.

I mentioned that a doctor can rather readily make the diagnosis by the appearance of the patient. The facial expression becomes fixed and does not respond to laughter.

The muscles become smooth; the gait in advanced cases becomes slow, hesitant and shuffling. Speech becomes impaired.

One of the characteristic motions is described as a pill-rolling tremor of the hands. This description comes from the way that druggists made pills between their thumbs and the two adjacent fingers.

The treatment for Parkinsonism has never been particularly effective. Drugs of all kind have been used to relieve the symptoms without really helping the underlying condition.

There is now a very elaborate and complex operation on the brain which is used in carefully chosen cases to relieve the tremor and the rigidity of the muscles. Not all cases are candidates for this operation.

Before it is considered, the doctor and the neurologist carefully survey the condition to avoid the disappointing heartbreak of a failure.

Psychological support is of great value to the people who are afflicted with this calamitous condition. I am always amazed by the remarkable reserve and courage shown by patients with Parkinsonism.

I would appreciate it if you would send me a list of names of plastic surgeons in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. O. N., Ohio

Dear Mrs. N.:
Your request could not possibly be more difficult if you had asked for the names of all surgeons in every state of the Union. Since there are hundreds of well-trained plastic surgeons the list would compromise my time and serve you no purpose.

Why then, do I answer this letter when obviously it will not satisfy you?

There is a special art in finding a consultant in any field of medicine or surgery. It cannot be done haphazardly by "letting your fingers run through the pages and do the walking for you."

Your own physician must be the clearing house for any specialist you seek. He knows your condition best. He also knows the plastic surgeons in your immediate vicinity who will make the greatest contribution to you. If you still want a list of specialists there is a directory in any medical library that will name all of them.

A birthmark is never due to "an experience" during pregnancy.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

A long dry spell brought a water shortage to Circleville.

A contract to erect sanitary sewage improvements at Circleville's City View area were awarded at a Newark firm.

Circleville schools were slated to open their doors for the 1967-68 year on Sept. 4, announced Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

TEN YEARS AGO

Circleville High School grid-ers were scheduled for a light scrimmage at the Fairgrounds practice field.

Nathan Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Route 1, was named state tractor driving champion.

Prisoners in the county jail were caught by the Sheriff and deputies trying to saw their way out of the cells.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Sixty-three Circleville men were accepted by the Armed Forces for military duty.

Pickaway County's rationed quota of rubber tires was due to be further reduced.

Joan Davis was the news reporter for the Junior Farmers of Monroe 4-H Club.

Modern Barbary Pirates

By John Chamberlain

Look who's talking. Algeria, as a member of the Organization of African Unity, has asked Secretary General U Thant of the UN to request the government of the Ivory Coast in Africa to release a couple of diplomats from Guinea who were forcibly detained when their plane made an unscheduled landing in Ivory Coast territory.

The joke, and it is a grimly ironical one, is that Algeria has been holding Moise Tshombe, former Prime Minister of the Congo, in jail after a plane hijacking that was considerably more high-handed than the Ivory Coast's detention of Mr. Beavogui Lansana, the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Guinea, and Mr. Achkar Marof, the Permanent Guinean Representative to the UN.

If the whole fate of international comity were not involved, and with it the fate of live human beings, this business of seizure and counter-seizure of travelers would make fine comic opera. The Ivory Coast-Guinea contretemps at the UN, which sounds like something out of Gilbert and Sullivan (though minus the music), couldn't have had a more ridiculous script.

The Ivory Coast government grabbed the Guinea diplomats when they were on the way home from a meeting of the UN General Assembly, which should have given them diplomatic immunity. The Dutch KLM aircraft, which was taking them to Conakry in Guinea, might have put down at some other West African port, but it chose to land at Abidjan in the Ivory Coast. Instead of staying with the plane, the Guinea diplomats walked away from the airport without getting transit visas. As high-ranking diplomats they didn't think they needed them, but they couldn't have been more mistaken.

Guinea, of course, squealed to high heaven when the visa-less functionaries were picked up. Whereupon Mr. Felix Houphouet-Boigny, the Ivory Coast President, calmly announced he would release the Guinea diplomats if and when Guinean President Sekou Toure released Mr. Francois Kamano, the Director of the Family Allowances Equalization Fund of the Ivory Coast.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO
A long dry spell brought a water shortage to Circleville.

A contract to erect sanitary sewage improvements at Circleville's City View area were awarded at a Newark firm.

Circleville schools were slated to open their doors for the 1967-68 year on Sept. 4, announced Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

TEN YEARS AGO
Circleville High School grid-ers were scheduled for a light scrimmage at the Fairgrounds practice field.

Nathan Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson, Route 1, was named state tractor driving champion

Prisoners in the county jail were caught by the Sheriff and deputies trying to saw their way out of the cells.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Sixty-three Circleville men were accepted by the Armed Forces for military duty.

Pickaway County's rationed quota of rubber tires was due to be further reduced.

Joan Davis was the news reporter for the Junior Farmers of Monroe 4-H Club.

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Please tell me all you can about the cause and treatment of Parkinson's disease? My husband was recently told that he had this condition. It seems that from the moment he was told about it, he fell apart. He can't work; he just sits and broods.

Mrs. M.L.M., Manitoba, Canada
Dear Mrs. M.:
That which we do not know about Parkinson's disease can fill many books. We, in the practice of medicine, know how to recognize it because the clinical picture is so distinctive. Unfortunately, we do not know enough about its cause and its cure to be helpful in all cases.

Parkinson's disease is also known as shaking palsy, or paralysis agitans. In some cases, this condition may be the result of an inflammation of infection of the brain. It can also be due to drugs, carbon monoxide poisoning and, occasionally, to injury.

The form that occurs in late middle age or in the elderly is almost always unexplained.

I mentioned that a doctor can rather readily make the diagnosis by the appearance of the patient. The facial expression becomes fixed and does not respond to laughter.

The muscles become smooth; the gait in advanced cases becomes slow, hesitant and shuffling. Speech becomes impaired.

One of the characteristic motions is described as a pill-rolling tremor of the hands. This description comes from the way that druggists made pills between their thumbs and the two adjacent fingers.

The treatment for Parkinsonism has never been particularly effective. Drugs of all kind have been used to relieve the symptoms without really helping the underlying condition.

There is now a very elaborate and complex operation on the brain which is used in carefully chosen cases to relieve the tremor and the rigidity of the muscles. Not all cases are candidates for this operation.

Before it is considered, the doctor and the neurologist carefully survey the condition to avoid the disappointing heart-break of a failure.

Psychological support is of great value to the people who are afflicted with this calamitous condition. I am always amazed by the remarkable reserve and courage shown by patients with Parkinsonism.

I would appreciate it if you would send me a list of names of plastic surgeons in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. O. N., Ohio

Dear Mrs. N.:
Your request could not possibly be more difficult if you had asked for the names of all surgeons in every state of the Union. Since there are hundreds of well-trained plastic surgeons the list would compromise my time and serve you no purpose.

Why then, do I answer this letter when obviously it will not satisfy you?

There is a special art in finding a consultant in any field of medicine or surgery. It cannot be done haphazardly by "letting your fingers run through the pages and do the walking for you."

Your own physician must be the clearing house for any specialist you seek. He knows your condition best. He also knows the plastic surgeons in your immediate vicinity who will make the greatest contribution to you. If you still want a list of specialists there is a directory in any medical library that will name all of them.

A birthmark is never due to "an experience" during pregnancy.

Modern Barbary Pirates

By John Chamberlain

Look who's talking. Algeria, as a member of the Organization of African Unity, has asked Secretary General U Thant of the UN to request the government of the Ivory Coast in Africa to release a couple of diplomats from Guinea who were forcibly detained when their plane made an unscheduled landing in Ivory Coast territory.

The joke, and it is a grimly ironical one, is that Algeria has been holding Moise Tshombe, former Prime Minister of the Congo, in jail after a plane hijacking that was considerably more high-handed than the Ivory Coast's detention of Mr. Beavogui Lansana, the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Guinea, and Mr. Achkar Marof, the Permanent Guinean Representative to the UN.

If the whole fate of international comity were not involved, and with it the fate of live human beings, this business of seizure and counter-seizure of travelers would make fine comic opera. The Ivory Coast-Guinea contretemps at the UN, which sounds like something out of Gilbert and Sullivan (though minus the music), couldn't have had a more ridiculous script.

The Ivory Coast government grabbed the Guinea diplomats when they were on the way home from a meeting of the UN General Assembly, which should have given them diplomatic immunity. The Dutch KLM aircraft, which was taking them to Conakry in Guinea, might have put down at some other West African port, but it chose to land at Abidjan in the Ivory Coast. Instead of staying with the plane, the Guinea diplomats walked away from the airport without getting transit visas. As high-ranking diplomats they didn't think they needed them, but they couldn't have been more mistaken.

Guinea, of course, squealed to high heaven when the visa-less functionaries were picked up. Whereupon Mr. Felix Houphouet-Boigny, the Ivory Coast President, calmly announced he would release the Guinea diplomats if and when Guinean President Sekou Toure released Mr. Francois Kamano, the Director of the Family Allowances Equalization Fund of the Ivory Coast.

who has been detained in a Conakry jail for two years, and twenty-two members of the crew of an Ivory Coast fishing boat who were seized last February in "Guinea waters." The excuse for grabbing Mr. Kamano and the fishermen was that they were plotting variously against Guinea to overthrow President Toure and to kidnap former President Nkrumah of Ghana, who has been living in exile in Conakry.

The protests of the Ivory Coast and Guinea to the UN set a lively merry-go-round in motion. Guinea claimed that its "rights as a Member of the United Nations had been violated." The Ivory Coast alleged that "human rights" — surely a UN concern — had been brought into contempt through the "arbitrary and high-handed" seizure of Director of Family Allowances Kamano and the crew of the fishing boat. Curiously, the trawler's crew included eleven Ghanaians, two Frenchmen, a couple of Malians, two Togolese, and two citizens of Upper Volta, which means that a lot of UN member nations were involved.

Both Guinea and the Ivory Coast expressed a willingness to let the various prisoners go, but only on separate face-saving conditions that have stymied any action. Guinea argued that it couldn't "sacrifice the Guinean Revolution" by agreeing to any "simultaneous or nearly simultaneous release by both sides." The Ivory Coast staked its honor on synchronization of release measures.

U Thant, as usual, has been tearing his hair. Meanwhile, Algeria, which has protested the detention of the Guinean diplomats, has been hanging on to Moise Tshombe for a price. The report is that Algeria will let Tshombe be extradited for execution in the Congo provided that the Congolese government turns against the United States and Israel. But the Israelis have been training Congolese soldiers, and the U.S. has been lending the Congo government planes to help put down rebellions. So, as these words are being written Tshombe still sits in an Algerian jail. And U Thant can do nothing about that.

With everybody grabbing people off planes and boats, we seem to have gone back to the days of the Barbary pirates. But the modern twist to the iron is that the pirates today all belong to the United Nations, which, as every schoolboy knows, was set up to give the world a rule by law.

Wedding Rites Solemnized In Presbyterian Church

MRS. RICHARD WESSELS

White mums and gladioli constituted the floral setting at The First Presbyterian Church on Aug. 12, for the evening wedding of Miss Sharon Hull, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hull, 540 Greenacre Court, and Richard Wessels, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wessels, Dayton.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry A. Walters, and nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Theodore Huston, organist, and Mrs. Ronald Knecht, soloist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose for her wedding an ivory bridal gown fashioned of Val lace. The molded bodice featured a low crescent neckline, brief sleeves and an empire waistline, accented by a band of peau de soie. The skirt was an easy sheath. The detachable full sweep chapel length train was of summer satin, with two sashes of Val lace crossing at the waistline in back. A circlet of matching Val held both her full length and fingertip veils of imported silk illusion. Elbow length kid gloves completed her bridal array. The bride carried her paternal grandmother's prayerbook with gardenias and roses. She also carried a lace handkerchief which had been carried by every bride in the Hull family and is over one hundred years old.

Mrs. Robert T. Hanson, Zanesville, served her college roommate as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Alkire, Circleville; Mrs. Carl Calandra, Cleveland; Mrs. Roger Wolfe, Columbus; and Miss Shirley Wessels, sister of the groom, Dayton.

The attendants were identical floor-length apricot chiffon sheath dresses, with oval necklines and pleated sleeves. The empire waistlines were encircled with a stain band ending with a bow in the back. Each girl wore floral arrangements of fresh roses in her hair. The headpieces were completed with matching floor-length veils. They carried a single long stem rose.

Capt. Gerald Wessels USMC served as his brother's best man. Ushers included: Terry Hull, brother of the bride; Glenn Brehm, Middletown, cousin of the groom; Frank Bonza, Dayton, and Gary Mauler, Lancaster.

Mrs. Hull was attired in a kelly green cage dress made of crepe, she wore matching shoes and accessories and short white kid gloves, a gift of the bride.

Mrs. Wessels, mother of the groom, wore a beige lace dress with matching jacket, and accessories. Each mother wore a corsage of apricot colored roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Pickaway Country Club. Hostesses were: Mrs. Gary Mauler, Lancaster; Miss Donna Winkler, cousin of the bride from Hamilton; Miss Kathie Burgoon, Co-

Red Cross Issues Plea For Vounteers

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross has announced there is a need for volunteers in two of their volunteer services, Berger Hospital and the V. A. Hospital in Chillicothe.

All volunteers are asked to take a six hour training period, consisting of an Introduction of Red Cross and the Meaning of Volunteer Service. This six-hour course will be given 9 a.m. Aug. 29, at the chapter rooms, 167 Watt St. All are asked to bring a sack lunch.

After the basic Red Cross training a volunteer will receive training for the job of his choice. There will be a class for those wanting to work at Berger Hospital the first part of September. The training at the V. A. Hospital is done by the hospital in October.

Local volunteers serve in many other ways too, such as, Well Child Clinic, Blood Bank, mending at the V. A. Hospital, Motor Service for local agencies, help at the chapter office, visits to shut-ins, ditty bags for service men in the hospital and they are presently compiling 150 filled Santa Ditty Bags for the men in service in Vietnam.

Anyone wishing to become a volunteer or would like more information, please call Mrs. Ben Brian, chairman of volunteers, 474-6331 or the Red Cross Chapter, 474-5736.

lumbus; and Miss Betty Clendenin, Gallipolis. They wore corsages of white mums.

Out-of-town guests were from, Columbus, Dayton, Hamilton, Cincinnati, Gallipolis, Middletown, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Cleveland.

Following a wedding trip to Canada the couple will reside in Oxford, where Mr. Wessels will be Miami University's freshman baseball coach and will complete work for his master's degree.

The new Mrs. Wessels is a speech and English teacher at Madison High School, Middletown. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wessels are graduates of Miami University.

Earlier in the week the bride entertained her matron of honor, bridesmaids and hostesses, at a luncheon in her home. The centerpiece of roses carried out the color scheme of the wedding. At that time, the ladies were presented gifts. The bridesmaids and matron of honor received white gloves and sterling silver pin cushions. The hostesses were presented white organdy and lace aprons.

Swank Reunion Held Sunday In Stoutsville

The annual reunion of the family of Phillip and Cora Swank was held Sunday at the K of P Hall in Stoutsville, with a basket dinner at noon.

Two age groups of children hunted for money hidden in sawdust. The remainder of the day was spent visiting.

The reunion will be held again next year the third Sunday in August at the same place.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Elza Fausnaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fisher, Jerry, Linda, Janis and Debbie; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fausnaugh, Oatie, Sandy and Gary; Mrs. Richard Fausnaugh, Jodi, Kevin and Chris; and Mrs. Robert Large, Rhonda, Robin, Robbie and Travis, of Lancaster;

Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Ashville; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Swank and Lola, and Miss Shelly Goldsberry, Amanda; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Weffler and Tammy, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Zeimers, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zeimers, Mr. and Mrs. Don Zeimers, La Verne, Phyllis, Teresa, Donna, Don Jr. and Wayne; Mrs. Nellie Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Justice, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Justice and Kyle, and Mr. Russell Creager, Stoutsville.

Through its program on basic social, economic and political questions, the federation provides a medium for individual growth and group understanding through the standard guiding committees members find many facets of community life through which to be of service.

In this 48th year of the National Federation, 176 of the 3,800 clubs are in Ohio. There are 15 district divisions of responsibility in Ohio. The Circleville Club is in district 10 and its present director is Mrs. Mary Williams of Fairborn. The state president is Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh of East Liverpool and the national president is Mrs. Mable McClanahan of Appleton, Wis.

The collect used by the club was written by Mary Stewart in Colorado in 1904. It was written as a prayer for the day and not for any particular person or group. It was published as a Collect for Club Women, because at the time Mrs. Stewart felt that women working together with wide interests was a new thing and that perhaps they had need of special petition and meditation of their own.

lumbus; and Miss Betty Clendenin, Gallipolis. They were corsages of white mums.

Out-of-town guests were from, Columbus, Dayton, Hamilton, Cincinnati, Gallipolis, Middletown, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, and Cleveland.

Following a wedding trip to Canada the couple will reside in Oxford, where Mr. Wessels will be Miami University's freshman baseball coach and will complete work for his master's degree.

The new Mrs. Wessels is a speech and English teacher at Madison High School, Middletown. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wessels are graduates of Miami University.

Earlier in the week the bride entertained her matron of honor, bridesmaids and hostesses, at a luncheon in her home. The centerpiece of roses carried out the color scheme of the wedding. At that time, the ladies were presented gifts. The bridesmaids and matron of honor received white gloves and sterling silver pin cushions. The hostesses were presented white organdy and lace aprons.

Swank Reunion Held Sunday In Stoutsville

The annual reunion of the family of Phillip and Cora Swank was held Sunday at the K of P Hall in Stoutsville, with a basket dinner at noon.

Two age groups of children hunted for money hidden in sawdust. The remainder of the day was spent visiting.

The reunion will be held again next year the third Sunday in August at the same place.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Elza Fausnaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fisher, Jerry, Linda, Janis and Debbie; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fausnaugh, Oatie, Sandy and Gary; Mrs. Richard Fausnaugh, Jodi, Kevin and Chris; and Mrs. Robert Large, Rhonda, Robin, Robbie and Travis, of Lancaster;

In this 48th year of the National Federation, 176 of the 3,800 clubs are in Ohio. There are 15 district divisions of responsibility in Ohio. The Circleville Club is in district 10 and its present director is Mrs. Mary Williams of Fairborn. The state president is Mrs. Ethel Wambaugh of East Liverpool and the national president is Mrs. Mable McClanahan of Appleton, Wis.

The collected used by the club was written by Mary Stewart in Colorado in 1964. It was written as a prayer for the day and not for any particular person or group. It was published as a Collect for Club Women, because at the time Mrs. Stewart felt that women working together with wide interests was a new thing and that perhaps they had need of special petition and meditation of their own.

EASY LIFE — Mrs. Robert Bowers relaxes for a few moments beside the lovely swimming pool near their hilltop home. In her spare time this busy "school marm" who teaches in Laurelville helps her husband pack the fruit at the apple-house during summer time. She mows the lawn too and helps with the roses.

Bowers Home Is Situated At Start of Scenic Drive

Know the Sky-Line Drive that angles off Route 56 in Laurelville? If you are not acquainted with it you are missing a scenic pleasure tour quite close to home.

And if you do know it, you will also know, the Robert Bowers place on the hilltop just as Sky-Line Drive starts.

An attractive modern home crowns the slope. And if you take the driveway edged with wonderful roses you'll find an oval swimming pool of aquamarine hue. This is just a few feet from the house.

At the top of the hill are big trees which Robert Bowers was careful to preserve when he built his home.

The place looks as though it were staffed by half a dozen gardeners, but Mrs. Bowers says the family does all the yard work and grooming.

Right now the family is just Mrs. Bowers and her husband because their daughter is married and Robert II is working on his uncle's (Dr. John Bowers) farm.

When you realize that Robert Bowers is the apple orchard man with all the know-how of a professional orchardist combined with necessary equipment it makes it seem more possible.

Actually Mrs. Bowers has been mowing the lawn this summer. A tractor mower, of course! And Robert mixes the sprays and takes charge of the health of the roses which is an easy task for a man who has orchards under his care.

The eye-catching roses edging the driveway are about 80 in number. When they were first planted the Bowers chose Improved Lafayette and Flora Dora, both bountiful bloomers. The two varieties of roses were interspersed with chrysanthemums.

And at first the Bowers planted their hybrid teas in front of the house with foundation evergreens. Later they planted a few hybrid teas near the pool and when the thriving evergreens crowded the roses they were all moved. Now several hybrid teas grow along with the floribundas along the drive.

Mrs. Bowers says that she believes Carousels heads their list for a beautiful rose with a fine performance and they plan to increase the number of Carousels.

Mrs. Bowers also does successful container planting. And guess what the container is! A dough bowl that belonged to Laurelville's first bakery. It is

G. H. Armstrong of the Laurelville community is surprising his friends again with big bouquets of gladiolus which he raises by the hundreds for this purpose. Every August this happens. Glads are his specialty and each bouquet has spikes of many different colors.

Mrs. Robert Bowers, Laurelville, has a giant diffenbachia in her house. It is the healthiest largest and most beautiful plant of this kind we ever saw.

Tulip Planting Tips Offered

In Burpee's Fall Garden Catalogue on page 12 instructions are given on how to grow tulips.

These instructions come as a total surprise to me. Evidently I have been disobeying tulip planting rules all my gardening life and with considerable success. Just seems to me my tulips are about as good as anybody else's.

However we pass on this service that comes from a most reputable seed and bulb company. And if you are having any trouble with your tulips do pay heed.

In fact you'd best pay heed whether you are having trouble or not.

According to Burpee's tulips should not be planted in soil in which they had been grown the last two seasons. Select a new location in a sunny position.

DO NOT USE fresh manure at planting time. Well rotted manure or bonemeal may be worked into the soil which should be well drained.

Plant bulbs five or six inches deep and about eight inches apart.

strength from the budded part which you want to bloom.

Friday we attended the executive board meeting of the Ohio Judges Council. This was held in Mansfield and we met Mrs. James Jackson of Ewington at the Earl McBee home near Baltimore. From there we traveled by scenic route instead of taking the faster Route 71.

Mrs. Earl McBee had all sorts of interesting things in her garden. One was a spike of orange berries. Irene Jackson said it was an arum that is quite rare.

According to Mrs. Jackson just about three gardens in Ohio have this plant. Like Magic lily the foliage appears first, then the flower after the foliage has died down and finally the spike of berries.

Mrs. McBee has two large framed niches on the walls of her livingroom and she keeps arrangements of flowers in these.

The scenic route was too much for the garden editor. It is really quite scenic, but twisty and curvy. On arriving at Mansfield she was overcome with motion sickness and had to be revived with smelling salts — of all things. Proved effective however!

Pretty bottles of smelling salts were quite fashionable when I was a kid. I was intrigued to know it was being used again. As I recall it was then used as a remedy for fainting.

The board meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Garvick. Her pink brick house had a rustic fence in front of the entrance on which New Dawn roses were blooming. In front of the fence Magic lilies were growing in colonies amid the ajuga and pachysandra ground covers. Justy mighty effective!

Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner remembered Dorothy Garvick. When Bea exhibited for the very first time at the Ohio State Fair flower show Dorothy Garvick was judge.

Bea Bumgarner had an entry in each class. She won three blue ribbons. But Dorothy Garvick had left comments on several of the non-winning entries. Bea said she never forgot the helpful suggestions that Mrs. Garvick gave her. And through the years these were far more valuable to her than the blue ribbons.

Mrs. Earl McBee had given Irene Jackson a grand, large piece of an old walnut tree complete with many fine holes. Everybody at the board meeting including Mary Knight, arranger of note and author, wanted that piece of wood. No siree! Irene said she had kept an eye on that walnut for five years and she was not about to part with it.

State Fair Flower Show Headed by Area Woman

A Pickaway County woman was selected this year to head the Ohio State Fair Flower Show. She is Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner of Route 2, Circleville. And even two weeks before the state fair Bea Bumgarner was so busy she was hard to catch at home.

In fact we had to schedule an interview at the Methodist Church the day the Bloodmobile was in Circleville because this competent and efficient woman was in charge of the kitchen that day for her grange.

But she took time off to talk to the garden editor. No, Mrs. Bumgarner does not dread her chairmanship duties at the state fair. It will be lots of work and she'll be at the fair everyday at 9 a. m. But actually she started the planning back in January when they asked her to take the job.

SO THE FAIR itself will be the blossom-time for all the carefully laid plans. And by a certain enthusiastic gleam in Bea Bumgarner's eyes we gathered she'll be having herself a ball when fair times rolls around — a ball and a lot of hard work too.

This chairmanship is a "work-up" job. Bea is an accredited judge with lots of flower show experience. Right now she is state chairman of county flower shows and is in charge of the county flower show contest sponsored by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs.

Concerning the State Fair Bea said there would be five exhibit gardens designed by five different garden clubs. There are eight niches which will be filled five different times during the fair by different arrangers — making 40 niche exhibits in all. There will be four different competitive flower shows which she will head. Besides this the Rose Society, the Glad Society and the Dahlia Society will have their own shows during fair time.

There is to be oral judging and exhibitors will be seated

CAUGHT AT HOME — Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, Route 2, Circleville, is so busy these days it is difficult to catch her at home. But she was there last Saturday morning. She had just finished dressing chickens for the Bumgarner family reunion scheduled for Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday she attended the Ohio Association of Garden Club's 37th convention and today is at the Horticultural Building of Ohio State Fairgrounds to assume her responsibilities as state fair flower show chairman.

while the judge talks over the microphone as she comments on exhibits.

THERE are a few innovations this year. There's to be a big turn-table (like the kind they have in automobile showrooms) and winning arrangements will be placed on this turn-table.

There will also be two new classes, one for hanging baskets and one for plaques with designs of dried material.

Mrs. Bumgarner will be assisted by competent helpers. On her committee are: Mrs. Vance Hendricks, Mrs. Dwight DeBos, Mrs. Robert Scherer and Mrs. Richard Brinkman.

If you talk to Bea Bumgarner you will understand that the state fair is just another responsibility she takes in her stride.

Preceding the fair were such chores as supervising the kitchen work for her grange at the Bloodmobile day last Thursday. Last Friday she took time off to entertain relatives from Florida. And Sunday was another play day, a family reunion.

Tuesday she was due at the 37th annual convention of OAGC in Athens. This would continue over Wednesday. The state fair starts today and that will occupy her time until Labor day.

Friday we attended the executive board meeting of the Ohio Judges Council. This was held in Mansfield and we met Mrs. James Jackson of Ewington at the Earl McBee home near Baltimore. From there we traveled by scenic route instead of taking the faster Route 71.

Mrs. Earl McBee had all sorts of interesting things in her garden. One was a spike of orange berries. Irene Jackson said it was an arum that is quite rare.

According to Mrs. Jackson just about three gardens in Ohio have this plant. Like Magic lily the foliage appears first, then the flower after the foliage has died down and finally the spike of berries.

Mrs. McBee has two large framed niches on the walls of her livingroom and she keeps arrangements of flowers in these.

The scenic route was too much for the garden editor. It is really quite scenic, but twisty and curvy. On arriving at Mansfield she was overcome with motion sickness and had to be revived with smelling salts — of all things. Proved effective however!

Pretty bottles of smelling salts were quite fashionable when I was a kid. I was intrigued to know it was being used again. As I recall it was then used as a remedy for fainting.

The board meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Garvick. Her pink brick house had a rustic fence in front of the entrance on which New Dawn roses were blooming. In front of the fence Magic lilies were growing in colonies amid the ajuga and pachysandra ground covers. Just mighty effective!

Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner remembered Dorothy Garvick. When Bea exhibited for the very first time at the Ohio State Fair flower show Dorothy Garvick was judge.

Bea Bumgarner had an entry in each class. She won three blue ribbons. But Dorothy Garvick had left comments on several of the non-winning entries. Bea said she never forgot the helpful suggestions that Mrs. Garvick gave her. And through the years these were far more valuable to her than the blue ribbons.

Mrs. Earl McBee had given Irene Jackson a grand, large piece of an old walnut tree complete with many fine holes. Everybody at the board meeting including Mary Knight, arranger of note and author, wanted that piece of wood. No siree! Irene said she had kept an eye on that walnut for five years and she was not about to part with it.

State Fair Flower Show Headed by Area Woman

A Pickaway County woman was selected this year to head the Ohio State Fair Flower Show. She is Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner of Route 2, Circleville. And even two weeks before the state fair Bea Bumgarner was so busy she was hard to catch at home.

In fact we had to schedule an interview at the Methodist Church the day the Bloodmobile was in Circleville because this competent and efficient woman was in charge of the kitchen that day for her grange.

But she took time off to talk to the garden editor. No, Mrs. Bumgarner does not dread her chairmanship duties at the state fair. It will be lots of work and she'll be at the fair everyday at 9 a. m. But actually she started the planning back in January when they asked her to take the job.

SO THE FAIR itself will be the blossom-time for all the carefully laid plans. And by a certain enthusiastic gleam in Bea Bumgarner's eyes we gathered she'll be having herself a ball when fair times roll around — a ball and a lot of hard work too.

This chairmanship is a "work-up" job. Bea is an accredited judge with lots of flower show experience. Right now she is state chairman of county flower shows and is in charge of the county flower show contest sponsored by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs.

Concerning the State Fair Bea said there would be five exhibit gardens designed by five different garden clubs. There are eight niches which will be filled five different times during the fair by different arrangers — making 40 niche exhibits in all.

There will be four different competitive flower shows which she will head. Besides this the Rose Society, the Glad Society and the Dahlia Society will have their own shows during fair time.

There is to be oral judging and exhibitors will be seated

CAUGHT AT HOME — Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner, Route 2, Circleville, is so busy these days it is difficult to catch her at home. But she was there last Saturday morning. She had just finished dressing chickens for the Bumgarner family reunion scheduled for Sunday. Tuesday and Wednesday she attended the Ohio Association of Garden Club's 37th convention and today is at the Horticultural Building of Ohio State Fairgrounds to assume her responsibilities as state fair flower show chairman.

while the judge talks over the microphone as she comments on exhibits.

THERE are a few innovations this year. There's to be a big turn-table (like the kind they have in automobile showrooms) and winning arrangements will be placed on this turn-table.

There will also be two new classes, one for hanging baskets and one for plaques with designs of dried material.

Mrs. Bumgarner will be assisted by competent helpers. On her committee are: Mrs. Vance Hendricks, Mrs. Dwight DeBos, Mrs. Robert Scherer and Mrs. Richard Brinkman.

If you talk to Bea Bumgarner you will understand that the state fair is just another responsibility she takes in her stride.

Preceding the fair were such chores as supervising the kitchen work for her grange at the Bloodmobile day last Thursday. Last Friday she took time off to entertain relatives from Florida. And Sunday was another play day, a family reunion.

Tuesday she was due at the 37th annual convention of OAGC in Athens. This would continue over Wednesday. The state fair starts today and that will occupy her time until Labor day.

Book Tells Of Flower Fragrances

"The Fragrant Year" is a delightful and beautiful book written by Helen Van Pelt Wilson and Leonie Bell. The collaborating authors are famous gardeners as well as garden writers.

Mrs. Bell is responsible for the 100 drawings which are correct in botanical detail and certainly a most beautiful addition to the book.

Between the gals they have grown in their own gardens every one of the many plants mentioned in the book.

We wish that "The Fragrant Year" could have been written 100 years ago. For the Victorians, with their penchant for fragrant flowers, would have adored it.

These two knowledgeable horticulturists maintain in the book that fragrances may even be enjoyed during the winter. They name Witch Hazel for January, Wintersweet for February and Daphne Mezereum for March. Each month brings its own fragrances. And unless you have been particularly interested in plant aromas it will come to you as a surprise that certain flowers are fragrant.

The lemon-lily for instance that blooms in May and is so common in many gardens has a perfume. The authors describe it thusly, "the scent has the violet sachet quality of Madona lily and August-lily."

Frankly we can scarcely wait until next May to sniff our own big drifts of lemon-lily. So disinterested have we been in flower perfumes we were totally unaware that lemon lilies were good smelly.

If you are a buff for flower fragrances you will love this book. And if floral aromas have not been of keen interest to you heretofore you are sure to have lots of surprises in store when you read it.

This book is available at the Pickaway County Library.

'Open Housing Fight Creates Violently Different Views

The Circleville Herald
Thur. Aug. 24, 1967
Circleville, Ohio

CHICAGO (AP) — Proposals to outlaw racial discrimination in housing—a major sore point with civil rights campaigners—won approval in five states this year.

Similar legislation fell by the wayside in four others.

Open housing laws were passed in Iowa, Vermont, Maryland, Hawaii and Washington state. They were defeated in Illinois, West Virginia, Kansas and Utah.

Twenty-one states now have some kind of open occupancy legislation.

The most widely watched maneuvering in the field this year was in two big states, each with more than one million Negroes—Illinois, where attempts at a fair housing law came to naught, and California, where efforts to modify the existing law failed.

An Associated Press survey showed the statutes vary in detail and built-in limitations.

The Iowa Legislature made it unlawful for an owner or real estate dealer to refuse to rent, lease or sell on the basis of race or religion. The law doesn't apply to two-flat buildings or the renting of rooms in one- or two-family dwellings if the owner or a member of his family lives there.

Vermont's new law has similar provisions.

The bill enacted in Maryland excludes all housing completed before June 1, 1967, and apartments completed before June 1, 1968, if the permit for construction was obtained before June 1, 1967.

It covers new apartments, except owner-buildings with 12 or fewer units. The law also covers houses if the owner owns five or more, which points it primarily at new developments. The measure forbids blockbusting tactics and discrimination by mortgage lenders.

The Hawaii Legislature outlawed any form of racial discrimination in leasing, selling or renting. Under the bill approved in Washington state, the state Real Estate Commission may revoke the license of a real estate broker if it finds he has committed two acts of racial or religious discrimination in the sale or rental of housing during a six-month period. The legislation does not cover owners directly. The measure is subject to a referendum in the November 1968 election.

Fair housing proposals failed this year in Kansas and Utah. An open occupancy clause was removed before adoption of the Human Rights Act by the 1967 West Virginia Legislature.

The battle waxed and waned through this year's session of the Illinois Legislature. Civil rights leaders demanded that the state suffer the loss of a $375 million atom smasher planned for Weston if the lawmakers failed to enact of freedom of residence bill.

But the legislators didn't, and the state kept the big federal installation anyway.

The issue has become serialized in California.

In 1963, the California Legislature approved the Rumford Act. It forbids discrimination in 65 to 70 per cent of all housing in the state. It covers real estate dealers and owners of apartments of five units or more and any housing financed with assistance from the Federal Housing Administration, the Veterans Administration or other public agencies.

But in 1964 the voters approved Proposition No. 14, a constitutional amendment repealing the act and stipulating that no such legislation should be passed in the future.

Still later, Proposition 14 was declared unconstitutional by the California Supreme Court, which was upheld by the United States Supreme Court. As a result, the Rumford Act remains in effect.

So this year moves were made in the legislature to repeal or modify it, steps favored by Gov. Ronald Reagan. But they didn't succeed, and the lawmakers adjourned Aug. 7 with the law unchanged.

During the session, Jesse M. Unruh, Democratic speaker of the California Assembly and a leader in antidiscrimination legislation, expressed reservations about the effectiveness of open housing laws.

"I have consistently maintained that there is little evidence that fair housing legislation in most other places where it has been enacted has resulted in significant progress in the desegregation of housing," he said.

In that connection, some figures are available from New York state, where a fair housing accommodations in the state.

The research department of the New York State Commission for Human Rights reports: Last year 632 complaints charging discrimination were filed with the commission, all but 40 of them from Negroes. In 281 of the cases probable discrimination was found. And in 174 of those cases the complainants either obtained housing or refused the housing that was offered to them.

Colorado has a fair housing law, put through in 1959 and strengthened in 1965, that even covers the sale, lease or rental of vacant lots. The Denver Housing Authority, while refusing to estimate the number of Negroes in white neighborhoods, says they are living in almost every residential area, including suburban districts. The Fair Housing Center, a separate agency, figures that about 7,000 of Denver's 40,000 Negroes live in predominantly white sections.

A Pennsylvania fair housing law enacted in 1961 forbids discrimination in the sale or rental of residences with the exception of homes or duplex dwellings in which the owner lives. The State Human Relations Commission calculates that this exemption excludes almost 66 per cent of the housing transactions in Pennsylvania.

Freedom of residence statutes, like others, are open to revision. In Nebraska, for instance, a 1965 law had the effect of prohibiting discrimination by real estate dealers in the sale or rental of property unless the owner directed them to observe restrictions. This year the legislature adopted a bill to make it a misdemeanor to bring any pressure on a property owner to prevent him from selling or renting to anyone he might choose.

Indiana law writers approved a measure in 1965 to outlaw racial discrimination in the sale or rental of housing other than owner-occupied buildings of less than four dwelling units. They adopted an amendment this year which permits neighborhood associations to draw up a plan for gradual integration, subject to endorsement by the Indiana Civil Rights Commission. Under the change, housing could be denied on racial grounds if the denial would help achieve or maintain racial balance in an integrated area.

Oregon has a statute forbidding discrimination by real estate dealers in selling or renting property. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People asked the 1967 legislature to add some teeth—permit any aggrieved person to collect damages up to $500 in cases of discrimination. The proposal passed the House but died in the Senate.

By James Marlow

there to say what they think individually when they return here after the election Sept. 3. Since they probably won't all agree, the chances of a continued dispute here look pretty good.

The new load of criticism being to hit Johnson July 31. There had been increasing growing about Johnson's handling of the war, particularly by Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

On July 31 he introduced a resolution—the Senate hasn't acted on it yet and perhaps never will—that would greatly reduce a President's power in foreign affairs.

It would require joint approval by Congress and the President to seal any national commitment abroad. This already is required if the President wants to make a treaty. But a President can do a lot of things abroad without a treaty.

So the Fulbright idea would tie a President's hands far more than ever before.

Then on Aug. 10, 21 House Republicans called on its Foreign Affairs Committee to modify the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, which both houses approved in 1964. It pretty much gives the President a blank check on how he wants to stop Communist aggression in Vietnam.

On that same day 57 House Democrats called on Johnson to warn the ruling military regime in South Vietnam that unless it allows a fair presidential election there this country may do some rethinking about helping South Vietnam.

This followed reports from Saigon that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, running for vice president on the same ticket with Lt.

Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, now head of state and running for president, had said the military junta was already making plans to retain power after the election no matter who won.

And that same day, Aug. 10, the other 10 presidential candidates opposing Thieu announced they would refuse to campaign unless assured by Thieu and Ky there would be an end to "harassment."

This was enough for some of the Senators growing ever more unhappy about the war. So on Aug. 11 a bunch of them—led by New York's two Senators, Robert F. Kennedy, Democrat, and Jacob K. Javits, Republican—began calling the upcoming elections a fraud, a farce, and a charade.

But that same day, the Thieu-Ky government invited Congress to send observers to Vietnam to insure the elections were free and open to scrutiny by all.

The Senate didn't want any part of that and rejected the invitation. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he saw no reason why Congress should involve itself. And Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said just about the same thing.

Five days later, Aug. 16, Johnson tried to soothe the senatorial fears by saying he already had told Thieu and Ky it was vital to keep the elections on the up and up and he said they promised to support the election outcome.

But that didn't soothe Javits who the next day proposed, although the Senate wasn't willing to send anyone to Vietnam to see how things really were, that the elections be postponed a month to give the civilian candidates a "real chance." But this suggestion was ignored on all sides.

Johnson held a news conference Aug. 18, and in effect, suggested "patience, please" and then challenged Congress to repeal the Gulf of Tonkin resolution if it didn't like what he was doing.

Ky, taking extraordinary action, sent Congress itself a letter Tuesday pledging he and Thieu would abide by the election outcome, no matter who won.

And late Wednesday Johnson announced he was sending the delegation of citizens, including some senators, to Vietnam as observers. Now if the elections turn out sour, nobody can say Johnson was hiding anything.

This ought to silence his critics for a while but, as nobody knows better than Johnson, probably not for long.

Johnson, with an instinct for the middle road, Wednesday night named a 20-man delegation of prominent citizens to go to Vietnam and observe the election. They will not be spectators. They will not make a formal report.

But they apparently will be

Notices to Printers For Bids for Printing Ballots. Notice is hereby given that the Board of Elections of Pickaway County, Ohio, will receive sealed bids for printing and furnishing of ballots for the general election of November 3, 1968, at 4:00 o'clock P. M., on Tuesday, the 29th day of August 1967, at its office in the Court House, Circleville, Ohio, for the printing and furnishing of ballots according to the specifications on file in said office.

Bids should be sealed and endorsed "Bids for Printing Ballots," and must be accompanied by a bond of the bidder in a sum double the amount of the bid, with at least two sureties or a surety company, satisfactory to the Board, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract for such printing as may be awarded and for the payment of damages by the bidder to the Board of any excess of cost over the bid or bids which the Board may be obliged to pay for such work by reason of the failure of the bidder to complete the contract.

The contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the County.

The Board, however, reserves the right to reject any or all bids. By order of the Board. Dated this 23rd day of August, 1967.

Board of Elections of Pickaway County. Attest: Thelma Trimmer, Director. Frank L. Marion, Chairman.

there to say what they think individually when they return here after the election Sept. 3. Since they probably won't all agree, the chances of a continued dispute here look pretty good.

The new load of criticism being to hit Johnson July 31. There had been increasing growing about Johnson's handling of the war, particularly by Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

On July 31 he introduced a resolution—the Senate hasn't acted on it yet and perhaps never will—that would greatly reduce a President's power in foreign affairs.

It would require joint approval by Congress and the President to seal any national commitment abroad. This already is required if the President wants to make a treaty. But a President can do a lot of things abroad without a treaty.

So the Fulbright idea would tie a President's hands far more than ever before.

Then on Aug. 10, 21 House Republicans called on its Foreign Affairs Committee to modify the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, which both houses approved in 1964. It pretty much gives the President a blank check on how he wants to stop Communist aggression in Vietnam.

On that same day 57 House Democrats called on Johnson to warn the ruling military regime in South Vietnam that unless it allows a fair presidential election there this country may do some rethinking about helping South Vietnam.

This followed reports from Saigon that Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, running for vice president on the same ticket with Lt.

Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, now head of state and running for president, had said the military junta was already making plans to retain power after the election no matter who won.

And that same day, Aug. 10, the other 10 presidential candidates opposing Thieu announced they would refuse to campaign unless assured by Thieu and Ky there would be an end to "harassment."

This was enough for some of the Senators growing ever more unhappy about the war. So on Aug. 11 a bunch of them—led by New York's two Senators, Robert F. Kennedy, Democrat, and Jacob K. Javits, Republican—began calling the upcoming elections a farce, a farce, and a charade.

But that same day, the Thieu-Ky government invited Congress to send observers to Vietnam to insure the elections were free and open to scrutiny by all.

The Senate didn't want any

Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, now head of state and running for president, had said the military junta was already making plans to retain power after the election no matter who won.

And that same day, Aug. 10, the other 10 presidential candidates opposing Thieu announced they would refuse to campaign unless assured by Thieu and Ky there would be an end to "harassment."

This was enough for some of the Senators growing ever more unhappy about the war. So on Aug. 11 a bunch of them—led by New York's two Senators, Robert F. Kennedy, Democrat, and Jacob K. Javits, Republican—began calling the upcoming elections a farce, a farce, and a charade.

But that same day, the Thieu-Ky government invited Congress to send observers to Vietnam to insure the elections were free and open to scrutiny by all.

The Senate didn't want any

Athletics' Fight With Owner Goes Right to Top

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics, last in the American League, are going right to the top in their smoldering dispute with club owner Charles O. Finley.

Maintaining their solidarity, the A's have voted unanimously to request a formal hearing and investigation by baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

As the Athletics headed home today upon completion of a road trip, the request was to be made of Eckert in New York by Marvin J. Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association.

Finley and the A's have been openly feuding since the controversial club owner suspended and fined pitcher Lew Krusie last week for an alleged incident aboard an airliner.

"The players feel Finley's actions have been detrimental to baseball and are appealing under a major league agreement that the commissioner can look into any such actions," Miller said Wednesday night.

Ohio State's Gary Cairns kicked 11 of 12 extra points for the Buckeye eleven last fall. He made 5 of 11 field goals, one of which was a Big Ten record 55 yarder against Illinois.

Carl Ward Gets Chance At Varsity

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Rookie cornerback Carl Ward will get a chance to crack the varsity Friday night when he opens against the Atlanta Falcons in a National Football League exhibition game.

Ward, a 5-foot-9, 180-pounder from the University of Michigan, was drafted fourth by the Cleveland Browns but got off to a slow start because of a training camp injury.

Coach Blanton Collier said, "Carl was primarily an offensive player in college and many people wondered why we drafted him. We were thinking of him all the time as a kick return man and defensive back-field prospect."

"Our talent scouts always keep in mind that aggressive offensive backs frequently develop into good defensive pro players," Collier added.

"There also is precedent for fellows his size doing well in the National Football League. Pat Fischer of St. Louis is one of the good cornermen. And he's no bigger than Carl."

Ward, who played high school football at Cincinnati Taft, will get the chance in Atlanta because Mike Howell still has a back injury.

Sarazan Suggests TV Charm School For Top Golfers

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Gene Sarazen, never at a loss for an idea, suggested today a charm school for tournament golfers to improve their television image.

"It has to come," the 65-year-old Germantown, N.Y., squire said, perhaps hiding a tongue in his cheek. "With all the TV exposure these days, the players are more actors than athletes."

"They worry about what they wear. They are concerned over whether they look too fat or sloppy on the screens. They're always on stage."

"Some enterprising business man could make a fortune teaching the boys how to dress and how to act and react before the cameras."

Sarazen is one of the 156 pros teeing off today in the $250,000 Westchester Classic here.

"They've all become performers," he said. "Arnie Palmer with his glove dangling from his hip pocket and his grimaces and smiles; Jack Nicklaus, with his big smile and good guy image; Doug Sanders, with his varied costumes and Gary Player, the little man in black."

After 19 straight victories over the New York Mets, Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants finally bowed to the Mets 8-7.

Pittsburgh Defeats Cubs, 2-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ron Santo is one of Al McBean's biggest boosters, but flattery still can't get him to first base against the Pittsburgh Pirates' newest starting pitcher.

McBean, making only his second start in two years Wednesday night, went the distance for a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs...and protected his slim edge by robbing Santo of a hit with the tying run on third base in the eighth inning.

"He's good and cocky and he gets the job done, which is what counts," Santo says of the Pirate bullpen specialist, who has split two starting decisions with the Cubs this season after working exclusively in relief since August, 1965. "He's as fast as anybody in the league and he almost dares you to hit the ball."

Santo went hitless in his first three at-bats Wednesday night, then challenged McBean in the eighth with two out and Don Kessinger on third. But McBean made a leaping stab of the Chicago slugger's smash through the box and threw him out, ending the Cubs' last threat.

tackle who has the ability to stay low . . . too good to keep out of the lineup."

At Teays Valley High School, Roese lettered four years as a linebacker, quarterback - full-back. He won a host of honors, including honorable mention All-State as well as All-South Suburban League honors.

IN addition to being a stand-out football player for the Vikings, he also starred on the basketball court, playing guard on a team that went undefeated during the regular season when he was a junior.

A health and physical education major at Bowling Green, Roese is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Roese of Ashville. His father was an outstanding basketball player at Ashville high school in the late 1930s.

His brother, Bruce, and step-brother, Mike Lombardo, both seniors at Teays Valley, are both excellent football players. Bruce is a quarterback for the Vikings and Mike an end.

The Falcons are coached by Bob Gibson. For the past 12 season Bowling Green has had winning football teams. Coaches Doyt Perry and Gibson have combined for a record of 90 wins, 16 losses and five ties.

In the Mid-America Conference the Falcons have a 55-12-5 record during the same 12-year span, claiming six championships.

This will be Gibson's third year as head football coach. He has a 13-5 overall record and a 9-3 mark in the conference.

Bowling Green opens the season hosting Quantico Marines Sept. 23. On successive Saturdays during the season they play Dayton, Western Michigan, Toledo, Kent State, Miami, Marshall, Ohio University, Northern Illinois, California State.

McCormick's five-hitter; Atlanta trounced Houston 9-3; Philadelphia edged the New York Mets 3-2 and Los Angeles pounded Cincinnati 8-0.

In the American League, first-place Chicago trimmed New York 5-2; California smashed Cleveland 16-5; Washington upended Boston 3-2 and Detroit divided a doubleheader with Minnesota, winning 10-0 before losing 4-3.

McBean, given an early two-run lead, scattered eight hits on the way to his fourth victory in seven decisions. Losing pitcher Bill Hands' fifth-inning single delivered the Cubs' run.

Matty Alou singled in the Pirates' first, stole second and scored on a single by Roberto Clemente. Manny Mota's double, an infield hit by Gene Alley and a ground out produced the deciding run in the second.

McCormick rolled to his 17th victory—tops in the league—and beat the Cardinals for the third time without a loss this season, with the help of Willie Mays' 16th homer, a two-run blast in the third.

Orlando Cepeda, the league batting leader, had three of the Cards' five hits off McCormick, 17-6 for the year.

Hank Aaron and Tito Franco-na each knocked in four runs in Atlanta's comeback victory, which snapped a five-game losing string for the Braves.

Aaron drilled the first of his two two-run doubles in the seventh, sending the Braves ahead 4-3. Francocka socked a two-run homer in the first and a two-run single in the Braves' five-run eighth.

The Phillies extended New York's losing skein to seven, longest of the season for the Mets, as Johnny Briggs rapped a two-run homer and Dick Ellsworth combined with reliever Dick Hall to scatter 11 hits.

Southpaw Claude Osteen blanked Cincinnati on three hits for his 15th victory against 11 losses and West Parker drove in three runs with as many singles to pace the Dodgers' attack.

1. Card of Thanks

We wish to sincerely thank our friends, neighbors, and relatives for the beautiful flowers and kind patties during the illness and death of our beloved Husband and Father, Frederick Davidson. Special thanks to Rev. G. H. Niswender,
Dr. Frank Moore, Dr. Robert Mc-Coy, staff at Berger Hospital, Defenbaugh Funeral Home and Pickaway Grain Co.
Mrs. Frederick Davidson and Family

We would like to express our appreciation to all the friends and neighbors for the cards, flowers, prayers, and many acts of kindness given during the recent illness and death of our father. Our deepest thanks to Dr. Smith, the Nurses and Aides at Berger Hospital for the fine care he received. Rev. Niswen-der, Father Metzger, the singer, the pallbearers, and Defenbaugh Funeral Home for the fine services rendered.

1. Card of Thanks

We wish to sincerely thank our friends, neighbors, and relatives for the beautiful flowers and kind sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved Husband and Father, Frederick Davidson. Special thanks to Rev. G. H. Niswender, Dr. Frank Moore, Dr. Robert McCoy, staff at Berger Hospital, Deffenbaugh Funeral Home and Pickaway Grain Co. Mrs. Frederick Davidson and Family.

We would like to express our appreciation to all the friends and neighbors for the cards, flowers, prayers, and many acts of kindness given during the recent illness and death of our father. Our deepest thanks to Dr. Smith, the Nurses and Aides at Berger Hospital for the fine care he received. Rev. Niswender, Father Metzger, the singer, the pallbearers, and Deffenbaugh Funeral Home for the fine services rendered.

Children of William M. (Bob) Flowers

Head Start Report Heard At Regular PCCAO Meeting

Pickaway County's Head Start Program was a main topic of discussion at a meeting of the Pickaway County Community Action Organization Tuesday evening.

Beatrice Oliver, Head Start director, presented a semi-final report on the progress of the program. A total of 144 children were enrolled in the project designed to develop self-assurance.

Mrs. Oliver reported that in some cases, attendance was sporadic and a few children dropped out of the program. At least one child per operating center did not continue with the project.

Field trips enjoyed by the children included an excursion to the county fair where all children were taken on a mid-way ride; exploration of the county bookmobile and library; visits to the local fire station; trips through a greenhouse and a visit to the Ashville Fourth of July celebration.

HEALTH services made up a major part of the program, Mrs. Oliver said. All children were given physical examinations and many were given necessary immunizations. Nine children were referred to other health services.

Total expenditures for the program thus far amount to $27,397.38. There is $12,073.63 remaining in the budget. Mrs. Oliver said outstanding bills are for supplies, food and health services. Staff pay is also yet to be deducted from the total.

A measure was approved at the meeting to invite members of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity and Regional O.E.O. in Chicago to the next meeting to discuss community action.

Ken Smith, chairman of the program committee, reported the committee is attempting to make a recommendation on a community center proposal in Atlanta.

Mrs. Gloria Pike reviewed the status of various programs associated with PCCAO. Her report stated that the village of Orient has prepared a lease for land to be used for Nelson Amendment Project Park in Orient.

The Legal Services Program is still in the process of being written, according to Mrs. Pike.

meeting stated five individuals are now being helped through the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation; regular counseling services for youth by the Youth Opportunity Center, Columbus, are being held in the office each Friday; and outreach workers are continuing to work and are being helpful in finding needy families.

Other business at the meeting included approval of a measure to deposit $1,200 in a savings account at a local bank. The money is a supplemental grant and was not needed for transportation in the Head Start Program.

Two Are Bound To Grand Jury In Forgery Case

Two persons apprehended by Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in an alleged check forgery ring were bound over to Pickaway County Grand Jury Wednesday by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb under $3,000 bond.

William M. McWhorter, 18; Carol Hawley, 19, both of Orient; and a 15-year-old Columbus youth were nabbed following a week of investigation by the sheriff's office into the forgery spree which covered southern Franklin and northern Pickaway Counties.

McWhorter was charged with two counts of aiding and abetting both Miss Hawley and the juvenile. He pleaded guilty and waived his rights to a preliminary hearing on both charges. A $3,000 bond was set on each offense.

Mrs. Hawley was charged with forgery and pleaded guilty. She also waived her right to a preliminary hearing.

The youth is slated for hearing in Pickaway County Juvenile Court. Grand Jury hearing for the adults will be Sept. 6.

Joseph Bryan Heads Bank at New Holland

The board of directors of the First National Bank of New Holland is announcing the election of Joseph V. Bryan as president.

He succeeds Robert Kirkpatrick.

McKinley Kirk has been named a member of the board. Bryan has been a board member for four years and is the second generation of his family associated with the New Holland bank. His father, Virgil C. Bryan, served the bank almost 40 years and was vice president at the time of his death.

McKinley Kirk is a native of New Holland and well known throughout this area as a horseman and director of the U. S. Trotting Association.

Shoemaker Opposes Raise In Auto Tax

Speaking out sharply against a bill which proposes an increase of five dollars in automobile license tax for the purpose of meeting department of highway maintenance and highway patrol enforcement expenses was Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker of Ross and Pickaway counties.

In expressing his strong opposition to passage of the bill in its present form, Shoemaker stated that, "motor vehicle license fees should be reserved to local government use." He pointed to the 1961 legislature session and referred to H. B. No. 49 of that session in which the state highway patrol was removed from sharing in the receipts of the motor vehicle license fees. The leadership in the General Assembly at that time, he continued, "made it unmistakably clear that it was the intent to reserve this field completely for local government to move away from this position now."

Shoemaker stated that inasmuch as he was personally convinced that there is a need to supply local governments with additional revenues that he was not necessarily opposed, in principle, to the five dollar license fee increases provided the additional moneys derived from such a tax increase were distributed among municipal, county, and township governments in accordance with the existing distribution formula.

However, in noting that many new factors are affecting the respective financial needs of local governments, Shoemaker suggested that a thorough study of this problem may be beneficial in determining if the existing formula for distribution of these funds should be modified so as to take into account the shifting needs.

Motorist Found Guilty in Court

A Circleville man was found guilty on two counts of violating traffic laws by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Wednesday.

Milton G. Zickafosse, 40, of 116 Highland Ave., was fined $50 and costs for driving a car with no operator's license and $25 and costs for not having valid registration plates.

Donald Gene Thompson, 28, Route 4, failed to stop for a red traffic light and forfeited a $24 bond when he failed to appear for hearing.

Leo F. Sines, 58, of 135 Park St., was handed a $15 suspended fine and ordered to pay court costs for disobeying a traffic signal.

Nine out-of-county drivers forfeited fines of $201.

Woman Held For Mate's Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police held Edith Thornton, 51, today for questioning about the death of her husband Emery, 76.

Officers said Mrs. Thornton told them she shot her husband Tuesday night after a quarrel and then left their apartment in the Over-the-Rhine area.

Ohio Legislature

Tax Hike-School Bill Goes Down in Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Republicans unable to keep their troops in line saw the GOP administration's tax hike-education bill defeated early today, but they immediately mapped plans to keep the big money bill alive.

After a party caucus of four hours followed by five hours of floor debate, the House voted at 1:30 a.m. to scrap the measure that includes an embattled provision diverting public funds for aid to parochial schools.

The vote was 59-38 but a two-thirds majority of 66 votes was needed because the measure carried an emergency clause to make it effective on signing by the governor.

Eight Republicans left ranks and six Democrats voted for STATE PERCEPTOR — Keith Krieger, 380 Cedar Heights Road, has been selected State Second Perceptor of the Ohio Council Order of DeMolay at the state convocation in Cincinnati. Keith is senior counselor with the Circleville chapter and is secretary of the 20th District Council. Other delegates at the state convention from Circleville include Larry Lane, Richard Lamb and James W. Krinn, 20th District Governor.

the measure which would raise at least $300 million and perhaps much more for education in the two-year bookkeeping period ending July 1, 1969.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood, said the parochial school provision — pouring $15 million into so-called "auxiliary services" — apparently was not the reason for defection by the eight GOP House members.

The speaker said "perhaps one or two" left ranks to vote against the bill for that reason and added "beyond that, I don't know what to attribute it to."

Tax and appropriation sections of the bill take effect immediately under the constitution but the school foundation portion—carrying $216 million in new money for elementary and secondary schools—will not take effect until December.

Stayner Brighton, executive head of the Ohio Education Association, said House members who helped defeat the bill "were only penalizing the teachers of the state of Ohio" who will have to wait an additional 90 days for their "sorely needed" pay increases.

Other features of the bill include:

Pay increases for teachers averaging $700-$800 in the biennium.

A requirement for school districts to adopt minimum teacher salary schedules.

A boost in classroom support from $2,450 to $3,050 in the more wealthy districts and from $1,910 to $2,425 in additional aid districts.

An increase from 10 to 17.5 mills after Dec. 31 the local operating millage required for districts to receive foundation funds, with a waiver to Jan. 1, 1969, for districts to vote needed additional millage.

Tax increases to raise the additional education funds, in addition to the franchise tax boost, would:

Raise the state's 3 per cent sales tax to 4 cents on the dollar, starting on 16-cent sales instead of 31 cents, with graduated brackets to 4 cents on sales between 72 cents and $1. Apply the sales tax to beer and malt beverages, cigarettes and some now-exempt business.

Audubon Nature Courses Studied By Miss Chilcote

Miss Margaret Chilcote, Route 1, Kingston, has recently completed a two-week natural history course at the Audubon Camp of Maine, located on the Todd Wildlife sanctuary, a forested island in Muscongus Bay, Maine.

Miss Chilcote was one of 55 special students enrolled at the Audubon Camp of Maine for the past two weeks and was one of 900 teachers and adult conservationists who are taking the famous Audubon nature courses this summer.

Miss Chilcote took courses in bird study, plant life and nature activities, the latter consisting of training techniques of teaching natural science and conservation.

Add 2 cents to the present 5-cent state excise tax on a pack of cigarettes.

The highway safety measure cleared the Senate without dissent although Senators debated on an amendment by Sen. Charles J. Carney D-33 Youngstown to retain use of radar warning signs removed by the bill.

The amendment lost 11-20.

Other provisions of the omnibus bill — which emerged from nearly two years of study — require driver education for students under 18 prior to issuing them a license, random inspection of vehicles, and "implied consent" amendment in the law under which motorists are deemed to have consented to blood alcohol tests upon application for their license, require special examination of motorcycle operators and also make crash helmets and protective glasses mandatory for them and their passengers.

The bill increases the fee for three-year driver licenses from 75 cents to $4 to pay the cost of driver training in the high schools estimated at $7 million the first year of the program in 1969.

Another major bill on which Senate action virtually completed enactment strengthens Ohio law on water management and water pollution control. The measure beefs up powers of the Water Pollution Control Board and gives added responsibilities to the Department of Natural Resources.

Other bills passed by the Senate, previously approved by the House, included those which would:

—Require welfare mothers be referred to family planning service.

—Relieve from administration estates of $3,000 or less in value (present law exempts those below $2,000).

—Regulate and license practical nurses.

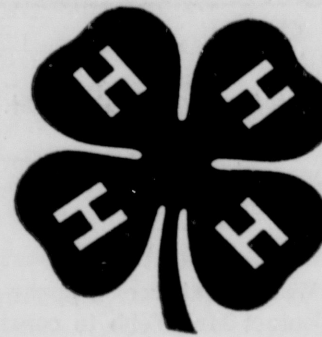

—Authorize school boards to spend one-half of one per cent of their general revenue fund each year for extracurricular school activities.

Head Start Report Heard At Regular PCCAO Meeting

Pickaway County's Head Start Program was a main topic of discussion at a meeting of the Pickaway County Community Action Organization Tuesday evening.

Beatrice Oliver, Head Start director, presented a semi-final report on the progress of the program. A total of 144 children were enrolled in the project designed to develop self-assurance.

Mrs. Oliver reported that in some cases, attendance was sporadic and a few children dropped out of the program. At least one child per operating center did not continue with the project.

Field trips enjoyed by the children included an excursion to the county fair where all children were taken on a midway ride; exploration of the county bookmobile and library; visits to the local fire station; trips through a greenhouse and a visit to the Ashville Fourth of July celebration.

HEALTH services made up a major part of the program, Mrs. Oliver said. All children were given physical examinations and many were given necessary immunizations. Nine children were referred to other health services.

Total expenditures for the program thus far amount to $27,397.38. There is $12,073.63 remaining in the budget, Mrs. Oliver said outstanding bills are for supplies, food and health services. Staff pay is also yet to be deducted from the total.

A measure was approved at the meeting to invite members of the Ohio Office of Economic Opportunity and Regional O.E.O. in Chicago to the next meeting to discuss community action.

Ken Smith, chairman of the program committee, reported the committee is attempting to make a recommendation on a community center proposal in Atlanta.

Mrs. Gloria Pike reviewed the status of various programs associated with PCCAO. Her report stated that the village of Orient has prepared a lease for land to be used for Nelson Amendment Project Park in Orient.

The Legal Services Program is still in the process of being written, according to Mrs. Pike.

meeting stated five individuals are now being helped through the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation; regular counseling services for youth by the Youth Opportunity Center, Columbus, are being held in the office each Friday; and outreach workers are continuing to work and are being helpful in finding needy families.

Other business at the meeting included approval of a measure to deposit $1,200 in a savings account at a local bank. The money is a supplemental grant and was not needed for transportation in the Head Start Program.

Two Are Bound To Grand Jury In Forgery Case

Two persons apprehended by Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in an alleged check forgery ring were bound over to Pickaway County Grand Jury Wednesday by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb under $3,000 bond.

William M. McWhorter, 18; Carol Hawley, 19, both of Orient; and a 15-year-old Columbus youth were nabbed following a week of investigation by the sheriff's office into the forgery spree which covered southern Franklin and northern Pickaway Counties.

McWhorter was charged with two counts of aiding and abetting both Miss Hawley and the juvenile. He pleaded guilty and waived his rights to a preliminary hearing on both charges. A $3,000 bond was set on each offense.

Mrs. Hawley was charged with forgery and pleaded guilty. She also waived her right to a preliminary hearing.

The youth is slated for hearing in Pickaway County Juvenile Court. Grand Jury hearing for the adults will be Sept. 6.

Joseph Bryan Heads Bank at New Holland

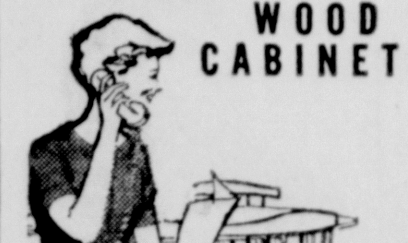

The board of directors of the First National Bank of New Holland is announcing the election of Joseph V. Bryan as president.

He succeeds Robert Kirkpatrick.

McKinley Kirk has been named a member of the board. Bryan has been a board member for four years and is the second generation of his family associated with the New Holland bank. His father, Virgil C. Bryan, served the bank almost 40 years and was vice president at the time of his death.

McKinley Kirk is a native of New Holland and well known throughout this area as a horseman and director of the U. S. Trotting Association.

Shoemaker Opposes Raise In Auto Tax

Speaking out sharply against a bill which proposes an increase of five dollars in automobile license tax for the purpose of meeting department of highway maintenance and highway patrol enforcement expenses was Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker of Ross and Pickaway counties.

In expressing his strong opposition to passage of the bill in its present form, Shoemaker stated that, "motor vehicle license fees should be reserved to local government use." He pointed to the 1961 legislature session and referred to H. B. No. 49 of that session in which the state highway patrol was removed from sharing in the receipts of the motor vehicle license fees. The leadership in the General Assembly at that time, he continued, "made it unmistakably clear that it was the intent to reserve this field completely for local government, and I find no valid reason to move away from this position now."

Shoemaker stated that inasmuch as he was personally convinced that there is a need to supply local governments with additional revenues that he was not necessarily opposed, in principle, to the five dollar license fee increases provided the additional moneys derived from such a tax increase were distributed among municipal, county, and township governments in accordance with the existing distribution formula.

However, in noting that many new factors are affecting the respective financial needs of local governments, Shoemaker suggested that a thorough study of this problem may be beneficial in determining if the existing formula for distribution of these funds should be modified so as to take into account the shifting needs.

Motorist Found Guilty in Court

A Circleville man was found guilty on two counts of violating traffic laws by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Wednesday.

Milton G. Zickafosse, 40, of 116 Highland Ave., was fined $50 and costs for driving a car with no operator's license and $25 and costs for not having valid registration plates.

Donald Gene Thompson, 28, Route 4, failed to stop for a red traffic light and forfeited a $24 bond when he failed to appear for hearing.

Leo F. Sines, 58, of 135 Park St., was handed a $15 suspended fine and ordered to pay court costs for disobeying a traffic signal.

Nine out-of-county drivers forfeited fines of $201.

Woman Held For Mate's Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police held Edith Thornton, 51, today for questioning about the death of her husband Emery, 76.

Officers said Mrs. Thornton told them she shot her husband Tuesday night after a quarrel and then left their apartment in the Over-the-Rhine area.

Ohio Legislature

Tax Hike-School Bill Goes Down in Defeat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Republicans unable to keep their troops in line saw the GOP administration's tax hike-education bill defeated early today, but they immediately mapped plans to keep the big money bill alive.

After a party caucus of four hours followed by five hours of floor debate, the House voted at 1:30 a.m. to scrap the measure that includes an embattled provision diverting public funds for aid to parochial schools.

The vote was 59-38 but a two-thirds majority of 66 votes was needed because the measure carried an emergency clause to make it effective on signing by the governor.

Eight Republicans left ranks and six Democrats voted for the measure which would raise at least $300 million and perhaps much more for education in the two-year bookkeeping period ending July 1, 1969.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood, said the parochial school provision — pouring $15 million into so-called "auxiliary services" for church affiliated schools — apparently was not the reason for defeat by the eight GOP House members.

The speaker said "perhaps one or two" left ranks to vote against the bill for that reason and added "beyond that, I don't know what to attribute it to."

Tax and appropriation sections of the bill take effect immediately under the constitution but the school foundation portion—carrying $216 million in new money for elementary and secondary schools—will not take effect until December.

Stayner Brighton, executive head of the Ohio Education Association, said House members who helped defeat the bill "were only penalizing the teachers of the state of Ohio" who will have to wait an additional 90 days for their "sorely needed" pay increases.

Other features of the bill include:

Pay increases for teachers averaging $700-$800 in the biennium.

A requirement for school districts to adopt minimum teacher salary schedules.

A boost in classroom support from $2,450 to $3,050 in the more wealthy districts and from $1,910 to $2,425 in additional aid districts.

An increase from 10 to 17.5 mills after Dec. 31 the local operating millage required for districts to receive foundation funds, with a waiver to Jan. 1, 1969, for districts to vote needed additional millage.

Tax increases to raise the

additional education funds, in addition to the franchise tax boost, would:

Raise the state's 3 per cent sales tax to 4 cents on the dollar, starting on 16-cent sales instead of 31 cents, with graduated brackets to 4 cents on sales between 72 cents and $1. Apply the sales tax to beer and malt beverages, cigarettes and some now-exempt business.

Audubon Nature Courses Studied By Miss Chilcote

Miss Margaret Chilcote, Route 1, Kingston, has recently completed a two-week natural history course at the Audubon Camp of Maine, located on the Todd Wildlife sanctuary, a forested island in Muscongus Bay, Maine.

Miss Chilcote was one of 55 special students enrolled at the Audubon Camp of Maine for the past two weeks and was one of 900 teachers and adult conservationists who are taking the famous Audubon nature courses this summer.

Miss Chilcote took courses in bird study, plant life and nature activities, the latter consisting of training techniques of teaching natural science and conservation.
